THE BIG CHANGE

June 30, in an all school convocation, ITCC-N was officially renamed Northeastern Illinois State College. Legally, July 1 became the "birthday" of Northeastern.

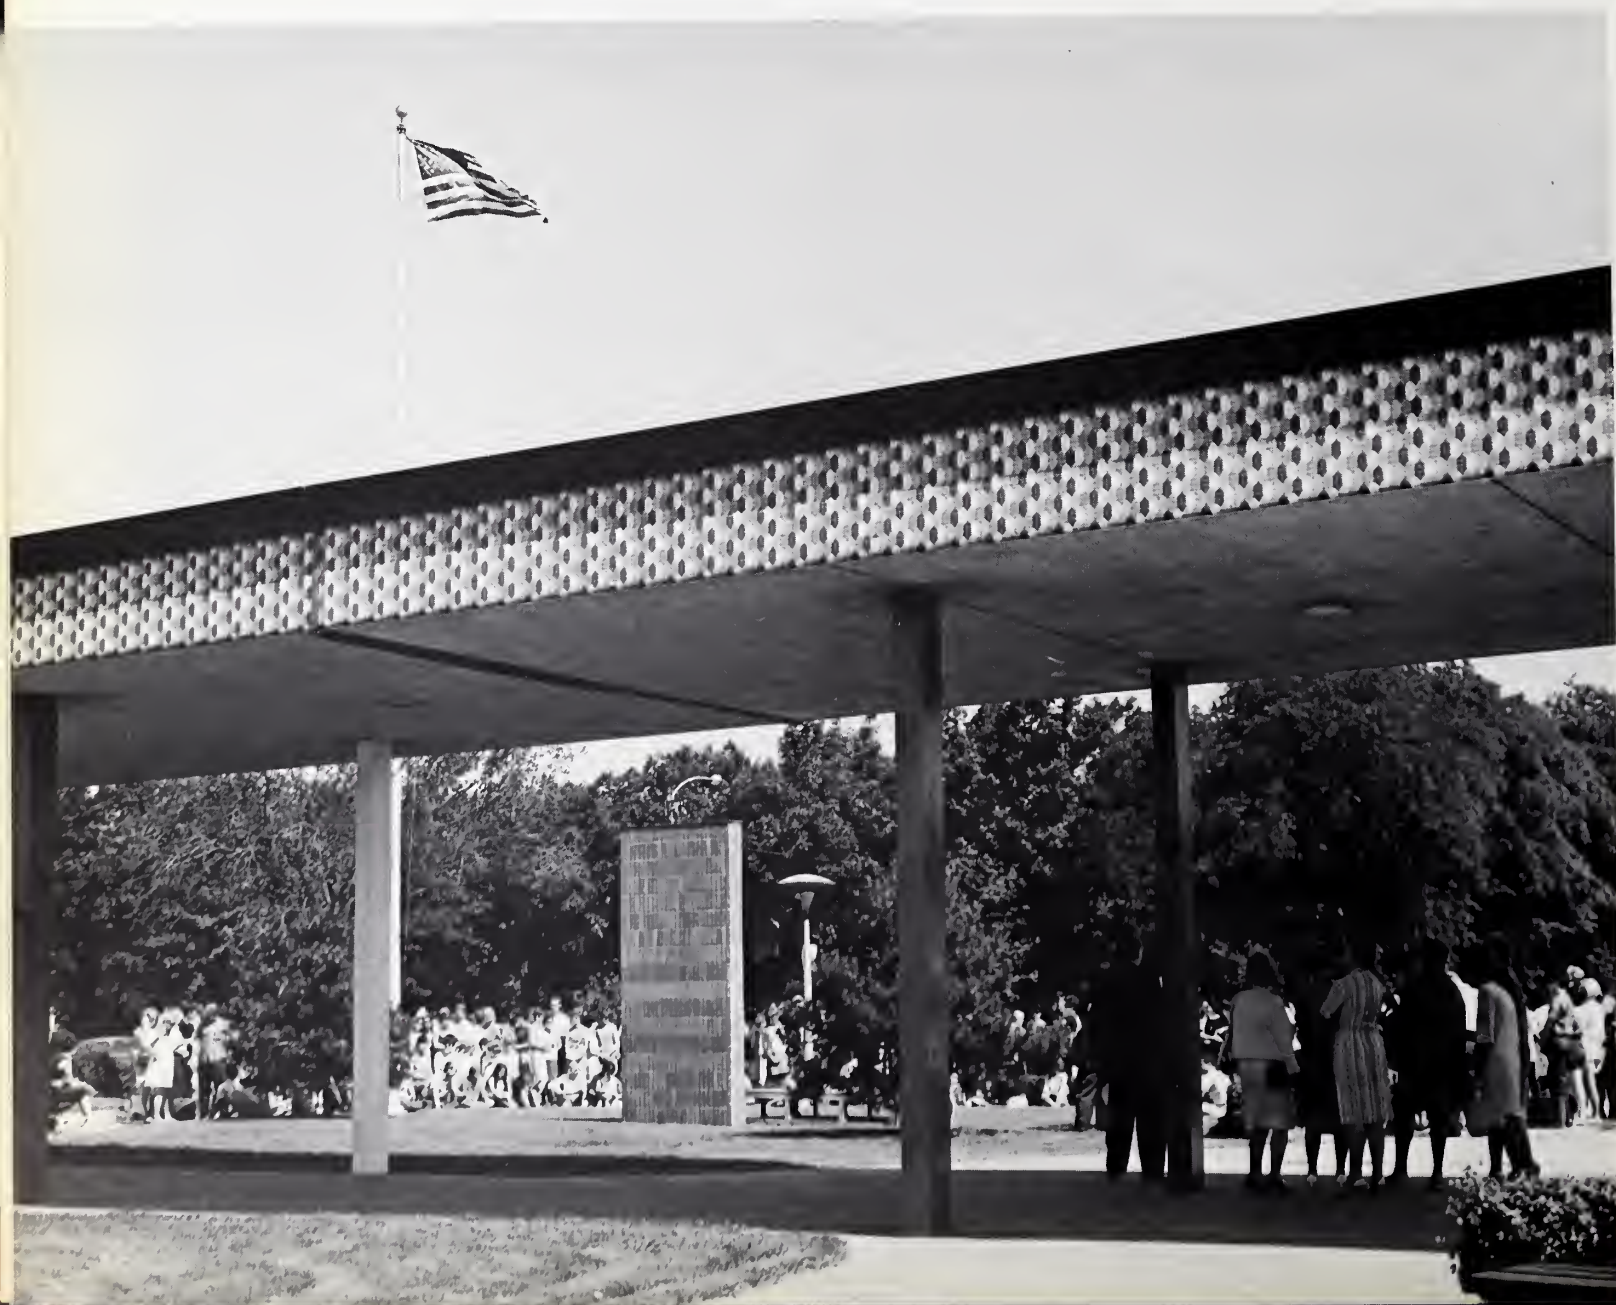

"This name change," President Sachs pointed out, "is the highlight of our acceptance into the family of Illinois State Colleges and Universities—a family in which we have been accepted as a full-fledged brother for almost two years."

Students and faculty alike await the unveiling . . . while the band plays on.

And now – the moment we've all been waiting for . . .

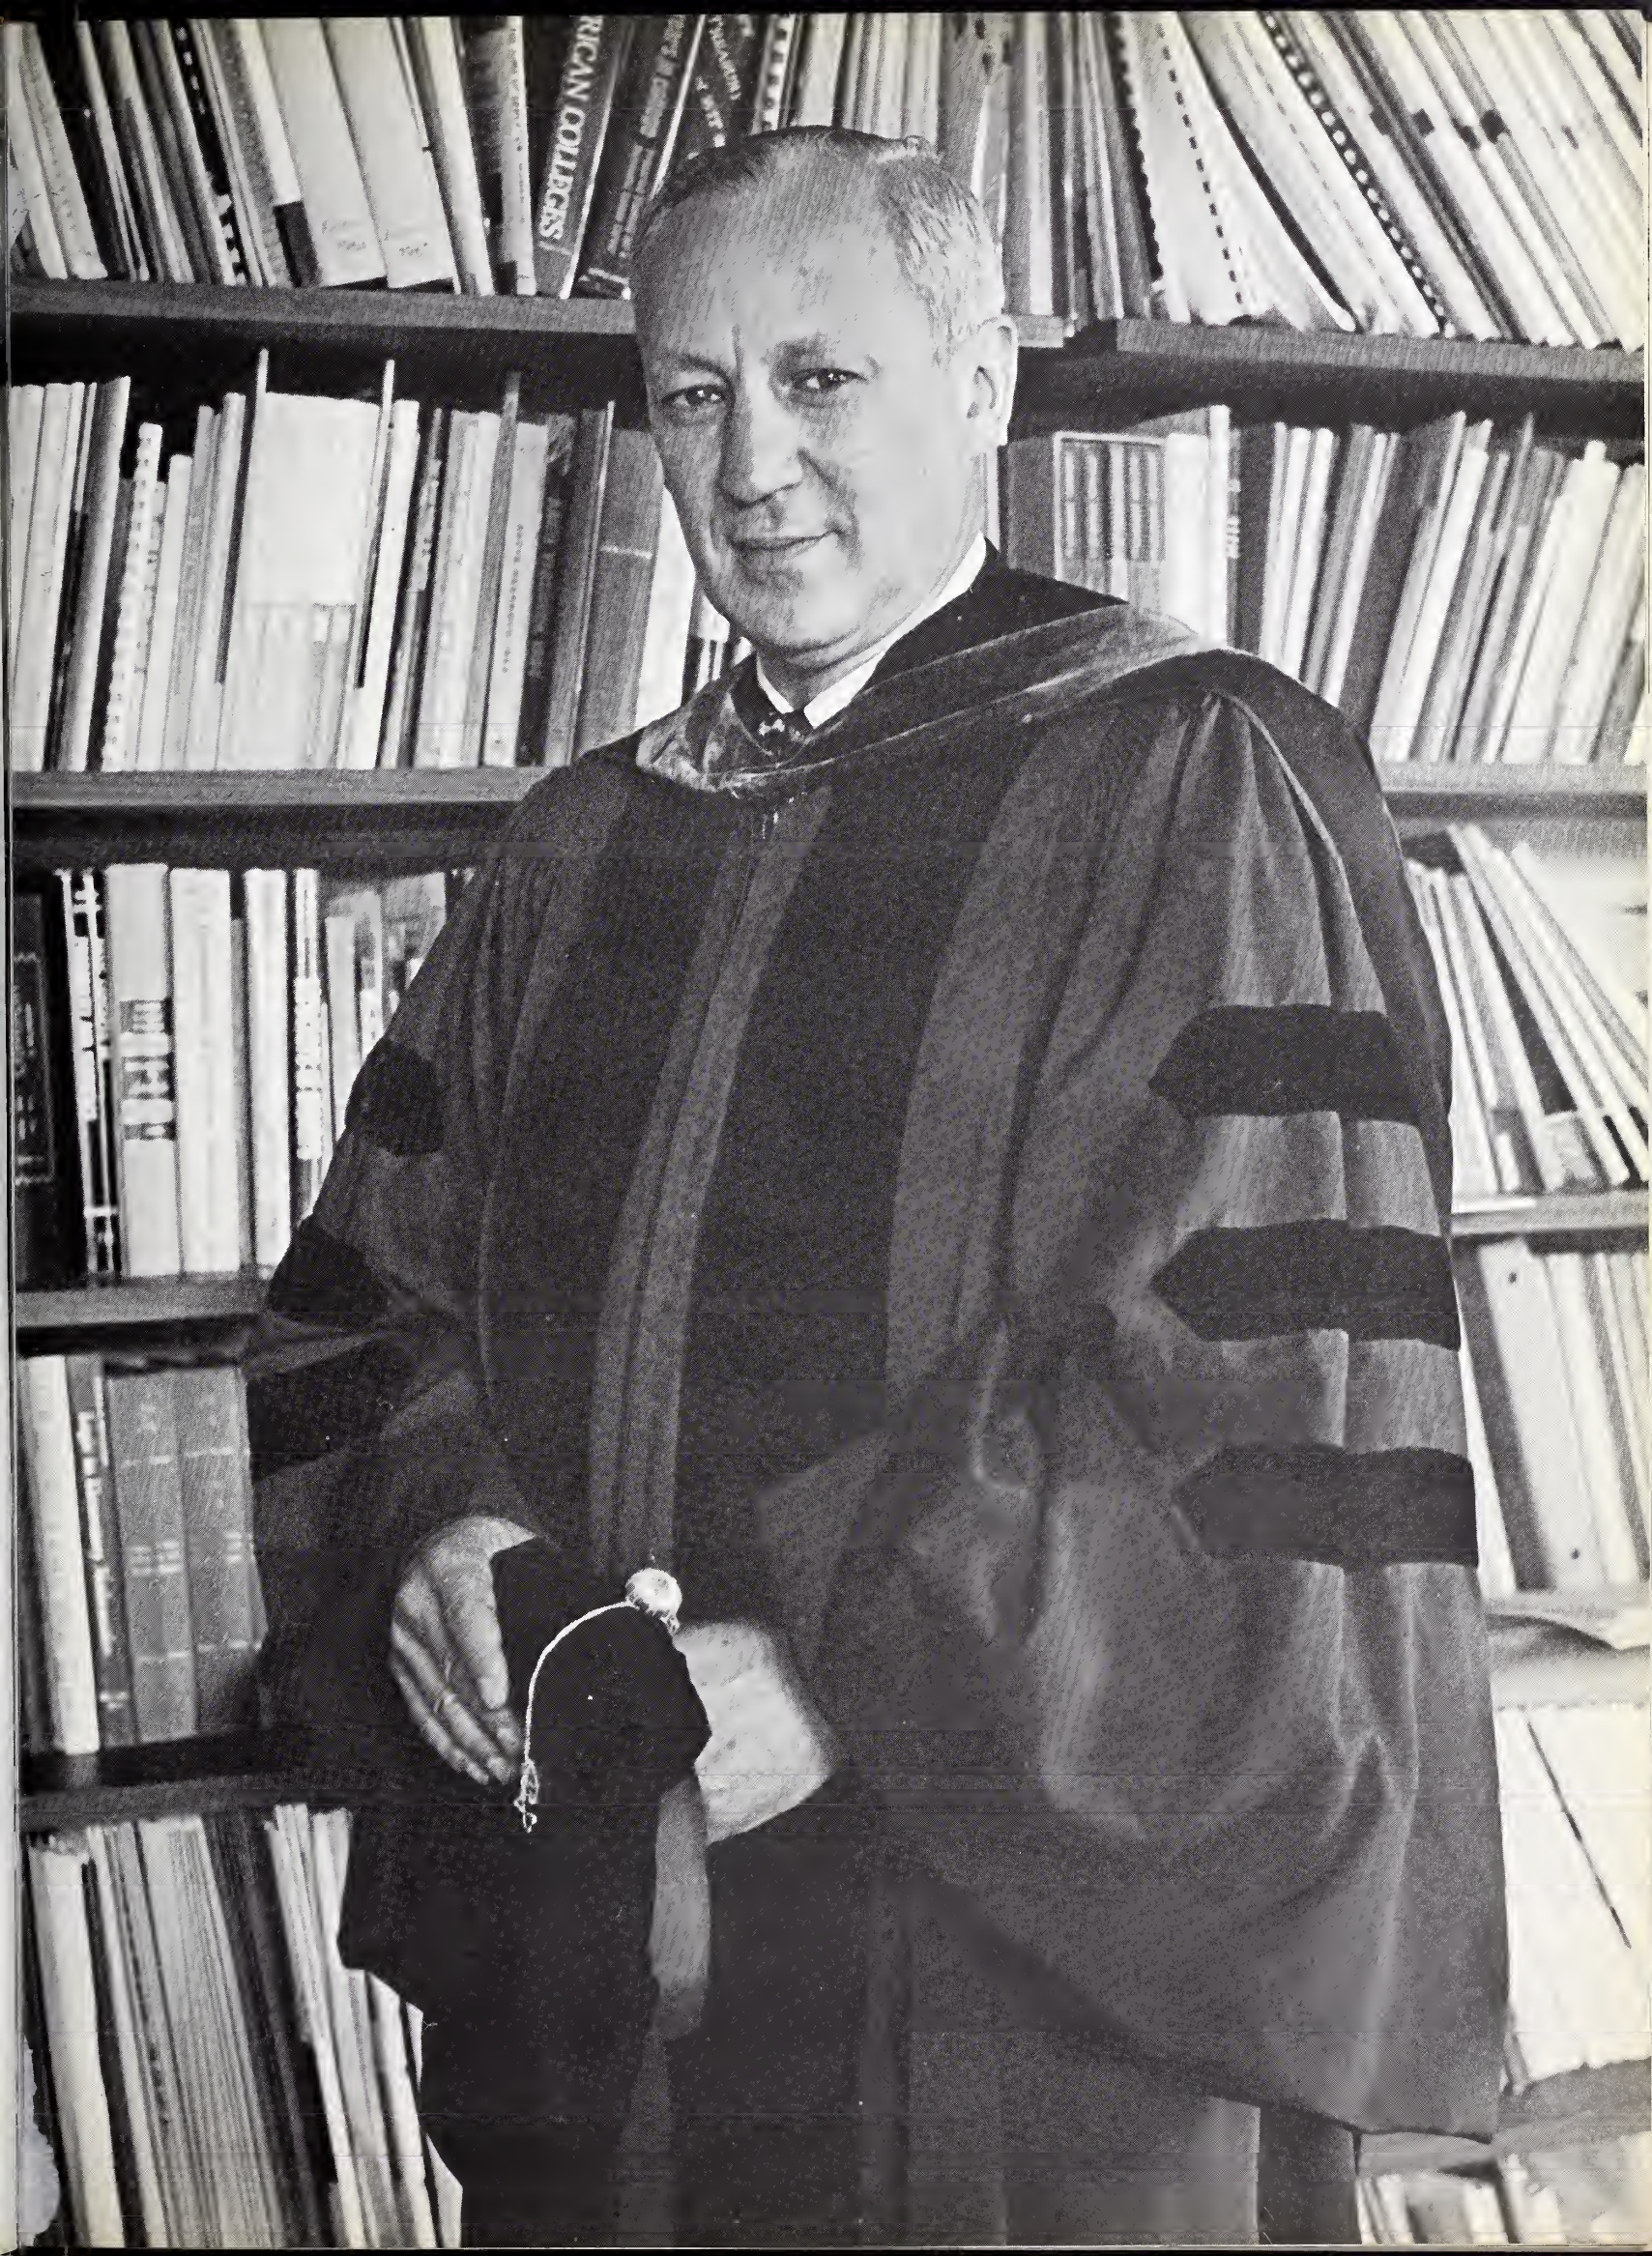

The Inauguration Of Dr. Jerome M. Sachs October 7, 1966 As First President Of Northeastern Illinois State College

The inauguration of Dr. Jerome M. Sachs as the first president of Northeastern Illinois State College brought us a big step closer to complete integration with the other Illinois state colleges and universities.

Dr. Sachs has been associated with this college ever since it was founded as Chicago Teachers College-North in 1961. During his first year here, Dr. Sachs served as dean of academic studies. He was named executive dean in 1962, and held this office until 1965 when control of the college was transferred from the Chicago Board of Education to the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities at which time Dr. Sachs was named dean of the college. On October 7, 1966, Dr. Jerome M. Sachs was inaugurated president.

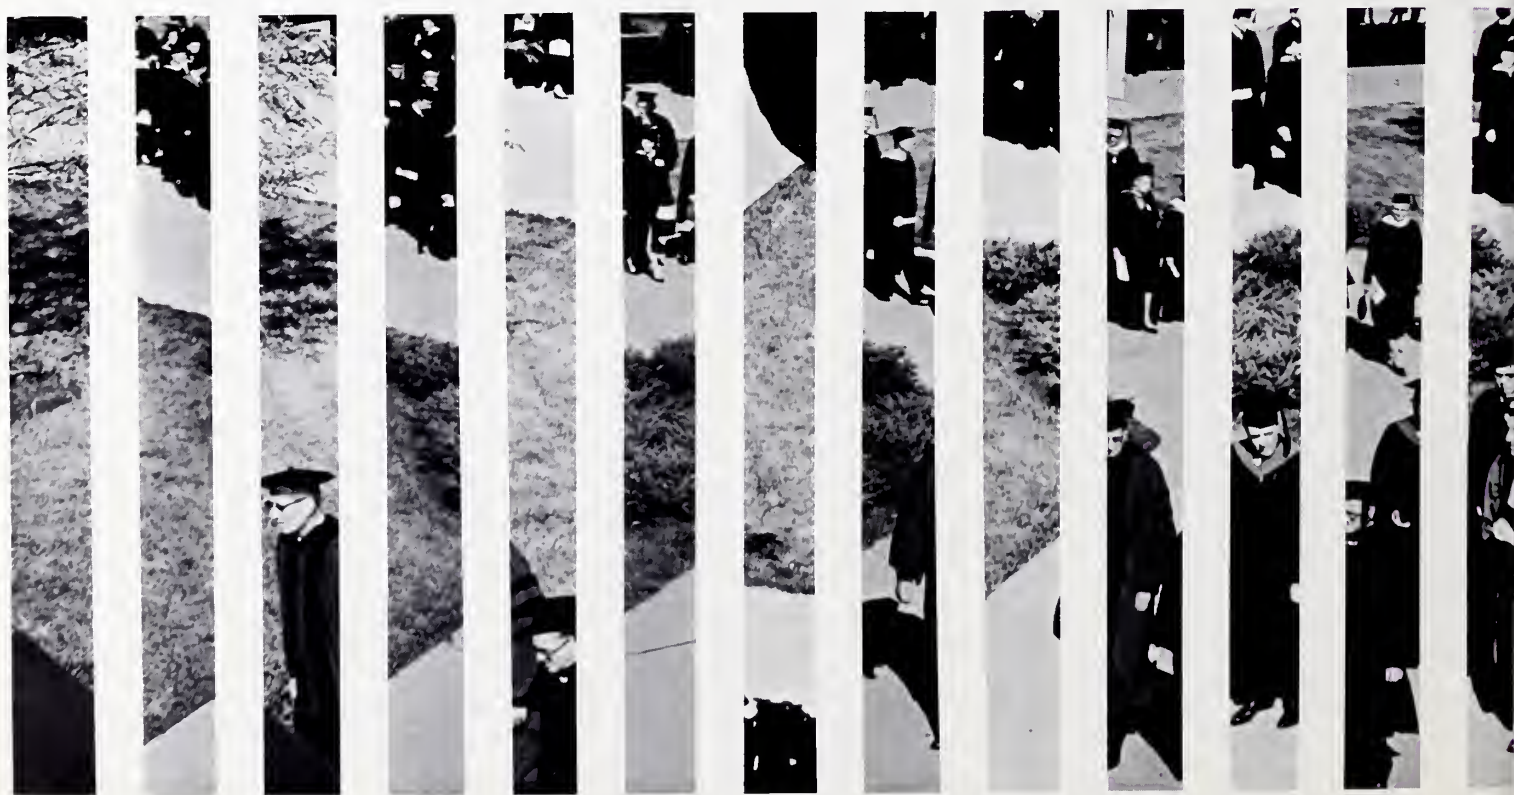

In the change from a city to a state college, Northeastern has had to go through many changes. Our administration and the Board of Governors have made the changes gradually in order that continuity from one system to another be maintained.

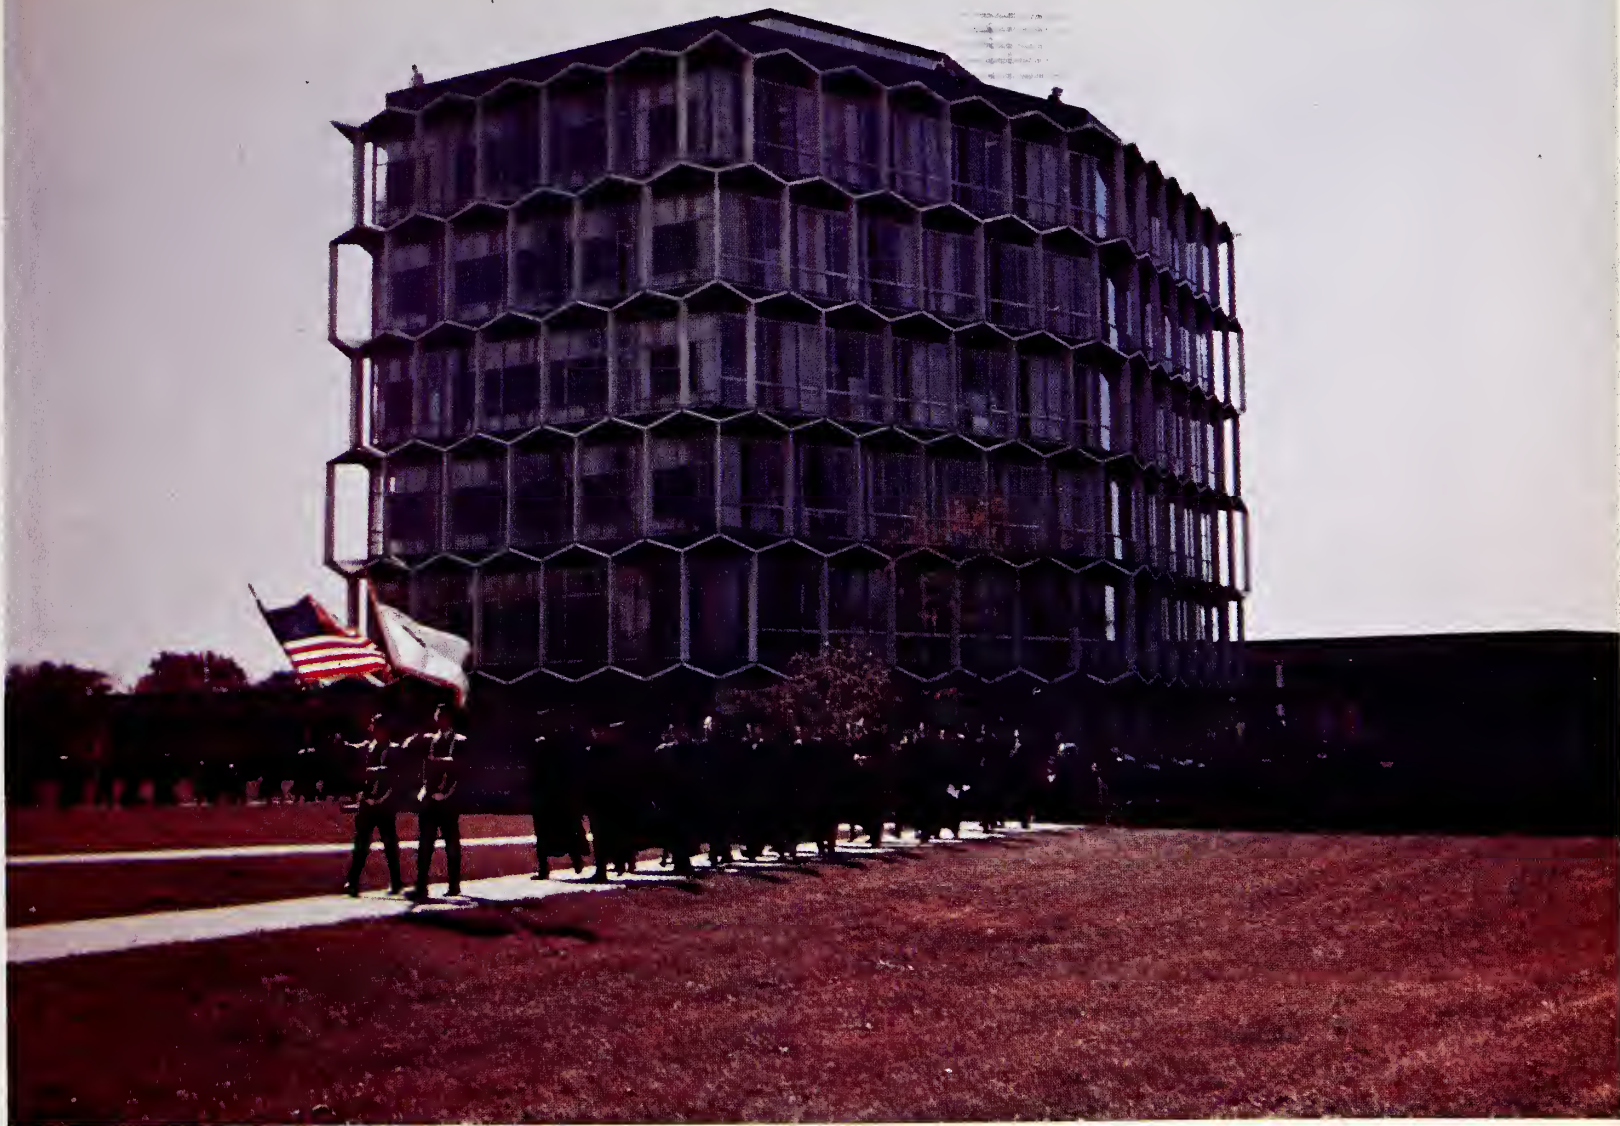

The Inauguration Program begins as the Academic Procession leaves the Tower Court and proceeds down Bryn Mawr Avenue. The distinguished guests, delegates from other institutions of higher learning, government officials, and faculty then enter the Auditorium as the afternoon's activities continue. From July, 1965 through July, 1967 North-eastern was known as Illinois Teachers College Chicago-North. In the photos of the inauguration, the old seal of the college is pictured.

CONCERT SERIES

Interlochen Woodwind Quintet

Interlochen Arts Quintet opened the Performing Arts Series on October 19, 1966 at Northeastern Illinois State College. The Interlochen Arts Quintet is a professional Woodwind Quintet, each member an artist faculty member on his respective instrument in the Interlochen Arts Academy in Michigan. In its fourth year of existence, the Quintet has received continually high praise in concerts throughout the United States. It has appeared on nationwide Television and Radio, and in concerts from New York to Alaska.

Suzanne Bloch

On November 16, 1966 Suzanne Bloch presented a program long to be remembered by all present. A Lutenist, Singer to the Lute, and also Player of Virginals and Recorders, Miss Bloch revived sounds from the past rarely heard on instruments today. Acting as her own narrator and commentator, Miss Bloch gave the background and meaning of each piece before its performance. Medieval, renaissance, and baroque music, as performed by Suzanne Bloch, could surely be appreciated and remembered by all in attendance at this concert.

Ralph Kirkpatrick

Ralph Kirkpatrick, the World's Great Harpsichordist, performed in N.I.S.C. auditorium February 8, 1967. Famous for his leadership in the revival of the harpsichord and clavichord, Mr. Kirkpatrick's performances abroad now outnumber those in the United States. With repertoire unrivalled, he continues to win the approval of audiences throughout the world.

Michel Block

On March 8, 1967 the season's Performing Art Series was brought to a climatic finish by pianist Michel Block.

Beginning his career at the age of nine with his debut in the French Embassy in Mexico. His formal orchestral debut, at the age of sixteen, was made with the Mexican National Symphony Orchestra. In the following year, Mr. Block began his studies in the United States at the Julliard School of Music in New York. Among his awards are the Rubenstein Award and the Leventritt Award, a treasure in the world of piano competition.

A truly gratifying experience was shared by those who attended this final concert presented by Michel Block, a young enthusiastic pianist of today.

Mr. Block speaks with Mrs. Sachs and guests.

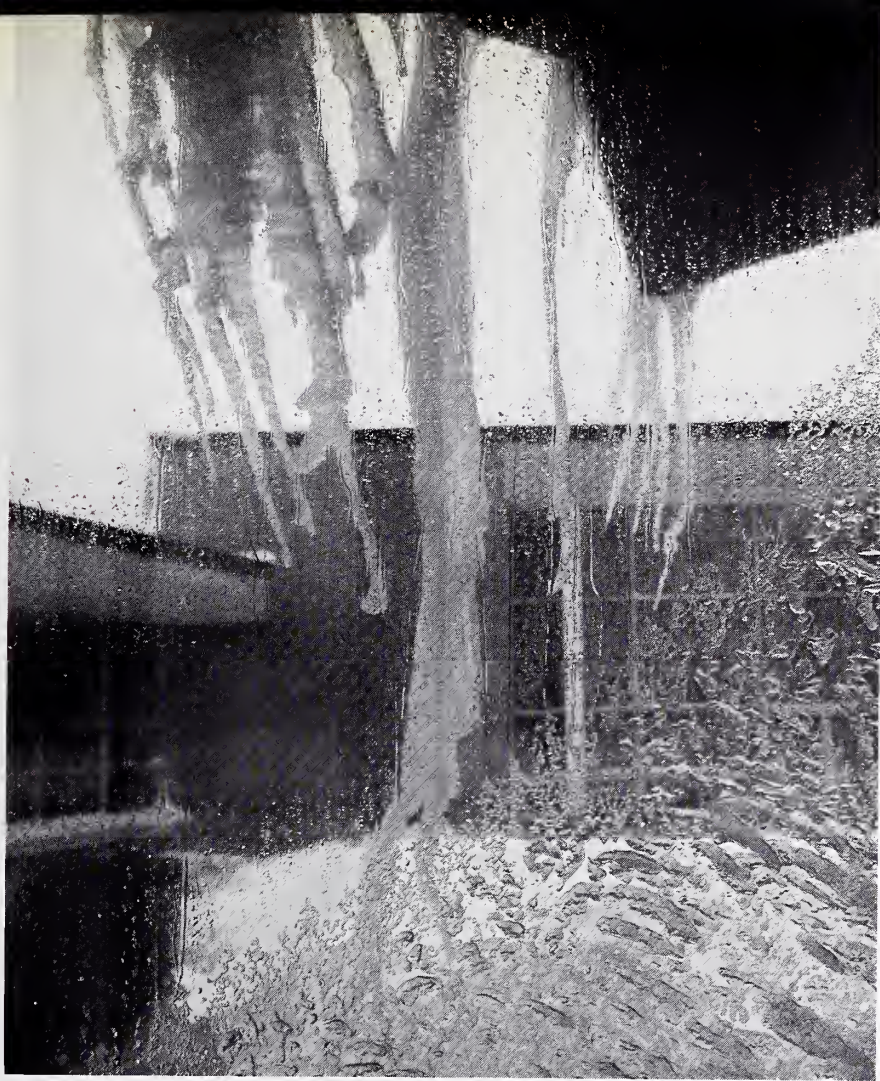

As I remember it was in the middle of January but there was no winter. We had several days of spring-like weather and then ...

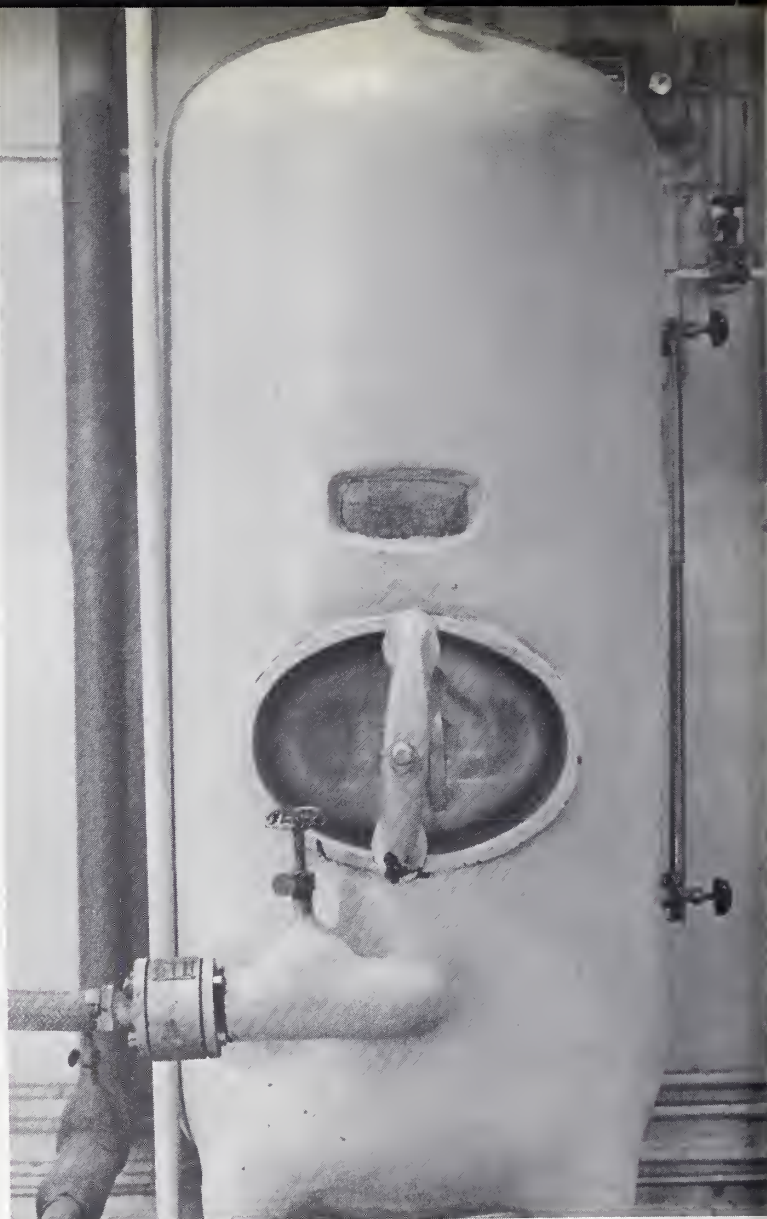

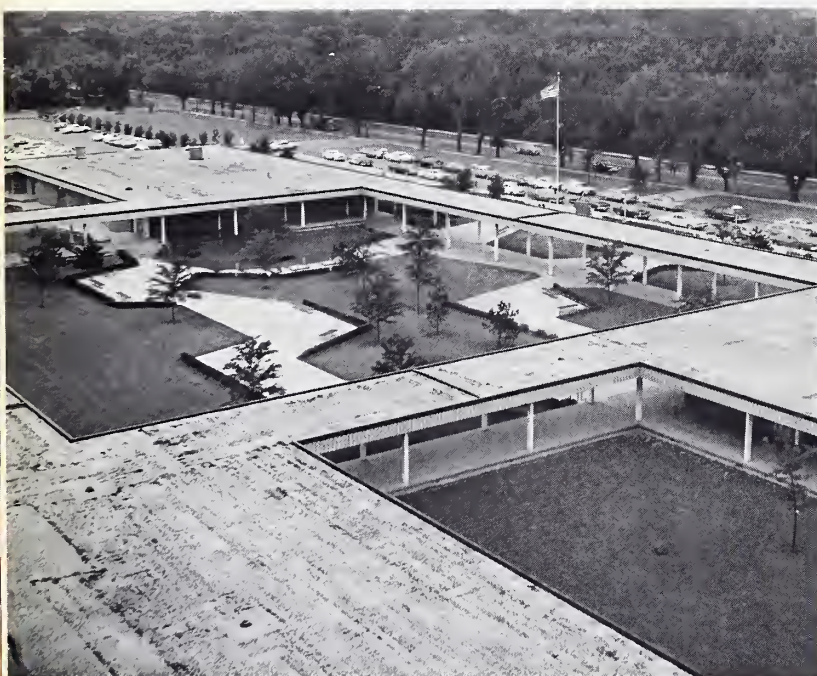

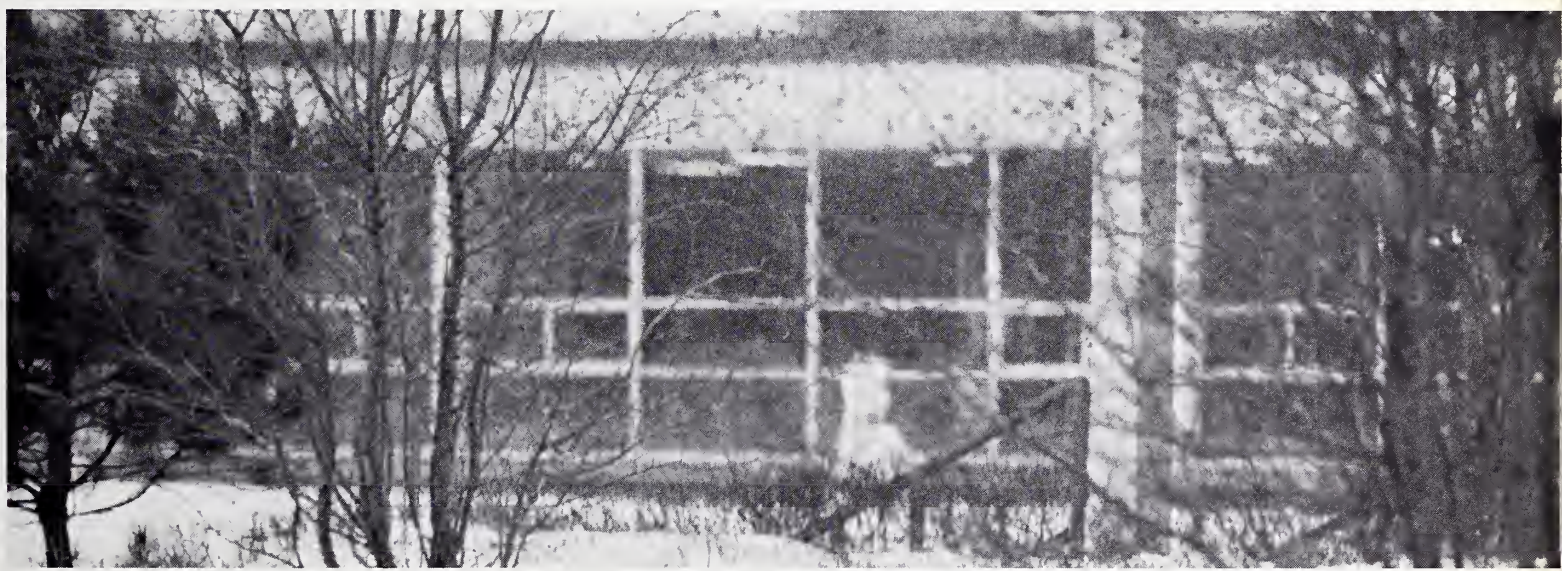

...yet that wasn't enough!

STUDENT ACTIVITIES & ORGANIZATIONS

HERE WE GO A-CARRELING

ONE OF THE MOST STRIKING FEATURES of Northeastern Illinois State College is the "study carrels" that line the halls.

These carrels can be used as a handy temporary store-room for those things that you leave when you rush to class,...

...a place to get those shocking exam results, ...

... a spot to mug girls, ..?

... a beauty parlor, ..?

... an area for health students to practice mouth-to-mouth resuscitation ..?

... or simply a place to study!

Pictures in this sequence posed by students for this sequence.

This brotherhood welcomes all scholastic young men of N.I.S.C. to join them in the brotherhood of AXE. The brotherhood was founded by Mike Coan, and chartered by the college on January 9, 1967. Today, six years later, our Band consists of almost every type of instrument, hundreds of compositions, and enough stands to accommodate all players.

Under Dr. Malek's direction (now director of Graduate Studies) the Band began to take shape; and now under the direction of Dr. Edgar Gangware (who succeeded Dr. Malek in September of 1966) the Band is now an integral part of the college. The Band gives at least three concerts a year, performs at basketball games and pep fests, and plays at all the graduations and most convocations.

The Collegium Musicum presented "An Evening Concert" March 30 under the direction of Dr. Harold Berlinger. Included in the program was one sonata, two suites, and a chronological arrangement of earlier forms of music. The most note-worthy selection was Carrousel from "A Day in the Park" by La Noue Davenport. Other highlights of the program included the vocalist, Jo Ann Loos and the accompanists, Susan Zangora and Victoria Jaskierski. A pleasant surprise was Maris Demschi's violin accompaniment to the "Affettuoso" from the 5th Brandenburg Concerto" to which Dr. Berlinger played the harpsichord.

To insure continuity, a national movement, called the Inter-Varsity Fellowship, was formed. The term, Inter-Varsity, was adopted in honor of the Annual Inter-Varsity Football Match which took place at the time of the national conferences.

N.I.S.C.'s chapter of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship was founded in September of 1965. This chapter has participated in Chicago area Inter-Varsity events including: the fall conference at Camp Hickory, Illinois, the spring conference at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, and a debate on the "God is Dead" theology at the University of Chicago. Some of the chapter socials have included: a bar-be-que and miniature golf outing, a costume gym party at Halloween, and a Thanksgiving Progressive dinner.

OPEN HOUSE

November 15, 1966, the Spanish Club presented their third annual Latin American Open House, in the N.I.S.C. gymnasium. The purpose of the open house was to bring members of the Spanish Club in contact with natives of Spanish speaking countries.

Illinois' first circuit court judge of Spanish descent, Hon. David Cerda, was among the honored guests. Judge Willie Whiting of Chicago's traffic court also attended. Dr. Calixto Maso, a former professor of social studies at Havana University in Cuba was another of the guests honored. Hostess Chris Dudek said, "The open house was a most successful undertaking by the Spanish Club. Over 200 guests attended the party."

surer), Elfie Christiansen (Secretary), Barbara Janus (Publicity Chairman).

The Spanish Banquet held at Mexico Lindo on March 31, 1967 was an adventure for those who had never eaten Spanish food. This experience helped those of the club to understand part of the culture of the Spanish speaking people.

Spanish Articulation Meeting

On December 3, 1966, the Spanish Department sponsored an Articulation Meeting. The meeting was designed to improve methods of teaching a foreign language in the high schools. Each member of the department led a small group discussion in which various methods were discussed. The groups then came together in a general meeting to discuss ideas gained in the small group meetings.

Below: Dr. Sachs addresses the group as Mrs. O'Cherony lends an attentive ear.

UNESCO-CEF

As a teacher preparatory institution concerned with the international component of education, Northeastern Illinois State College has formed a United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization-Children's Emergency Fund (UNESCO-CEF) Club. Conducting evening programs of cultural exchange consisting of international films, music, and other such interests, this club promotes the work and interest in UNESCO and UNICEF. The UNESCO-CEF Club acts as hosts to foreign students and other visitors and also helps to organize participation in meetings and conferences on cultural exchange.

STAGE PLAYERS

Stage Players have become an integral part of the Curricular Activities Program on campus. This organization offers the interested student a chance not only to enhance his experience in performing before a large group, but also in adding a part to his liberal arts education. Many adult dramas, as well as children's performances, have been produced by this group.

Stage Players is sure that the future leads to a great dramatic establishment at Northeastern Illinois State College; one that can enrich not only the college but the community as well.

ONCE UPON A MATTRESS

Jordyce Bryntesen—Winnifred

The basis of the play is a fairy tale which deals with the domineering queen protecting her young prince from marriage. She administers impossible tests to the prospective brides. The ultimate test is given to the Princess of the Swamp, Winnifred; a pea placed under twenty mattresses. If she sleeps she does not have the sensitivity of royalty. After a tortuous night of counting sheep, she marries Prince Dauntless the Drab.

Princess of the Swamp, Winnifred (Jordyce Bryntesen), won the audience's backing with impish glances.

Prince Dauntless the Drab (Lawry Gold) was the prize for which the princesses competed.

Lady Larkin and Sir Harry discuss their future in a song.

King Sextmus the Silent and Prince Dauntless figure out what life is about in a song and pantomime.

SQUARE DANCE CLUB

The Square Dance Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Bettye Ehrlich and the auspices of the Physical Health Club, is a new organization on our campus. As its name implies, the club is dedicated to learning and enjoying various forms of square dancing and is open to all people who like to dance and meet new friends.

Dances are held once a week, during which Mrs. Ehrlich guides the group in having new experiences in our American folk dance. On occasion, some Physical Education majors have been invited to be guest callers for the club, while furthering their knowledge in dancing.

CHEERLEADERS

Cheerleading is a new organization on campus. This is only the second year of activity, and already many changes have been made. The squad this year consists of six regulars and two alternates, a big reduction from last year's squad.

The cheerleaders played a big part in the success of the pep rally at the beginning of the basketball season. Aside from promoting spirit for the Golden Eagles, the cheerleaders support their school. They participated at the Miss ITCC-N Pep Rally; they performed at the Conrad Hilton for the National Convention of AAHPER; and, they assisted the Physical Education Department in President Sachs' Inauguration.

Pep, organization, and plenty of school spirit have been the goals for this season. Miss Redmon, the cheerleaders' sponsor, has helped the squad achieve these goals successfully.

PEP CLUB

The Pep Club became active at the time the basketball team was organized. It is a branch of the Physical Health Club. The main purpose of the club is to help promote school spirit and interest in the basketball team and games. The Pep Club makes posters and hoops for the games and also helps the cheerleaders get other students and observers to cheer and become interested in the sports life here at N.I.S.C.

Bottom Row: Iris Podolsky, Janet Gundersen, Cindi Rusin, Carol Slugg, Diana Horton. Standing: Donna Doerfler, Corinne Hansen, Marilyn Kroyer, Ginnie Morrison, Lila Winn, Barbara Krause.

PEP RALLY

In order to get the old spirit worked up in all of our students, the cheerleaders sponsored the second annual pep rally on Tuesday, November 29, 1966.

Northeastern's mascot, the Golden Eagle, comes to life to the cheers of the fans.

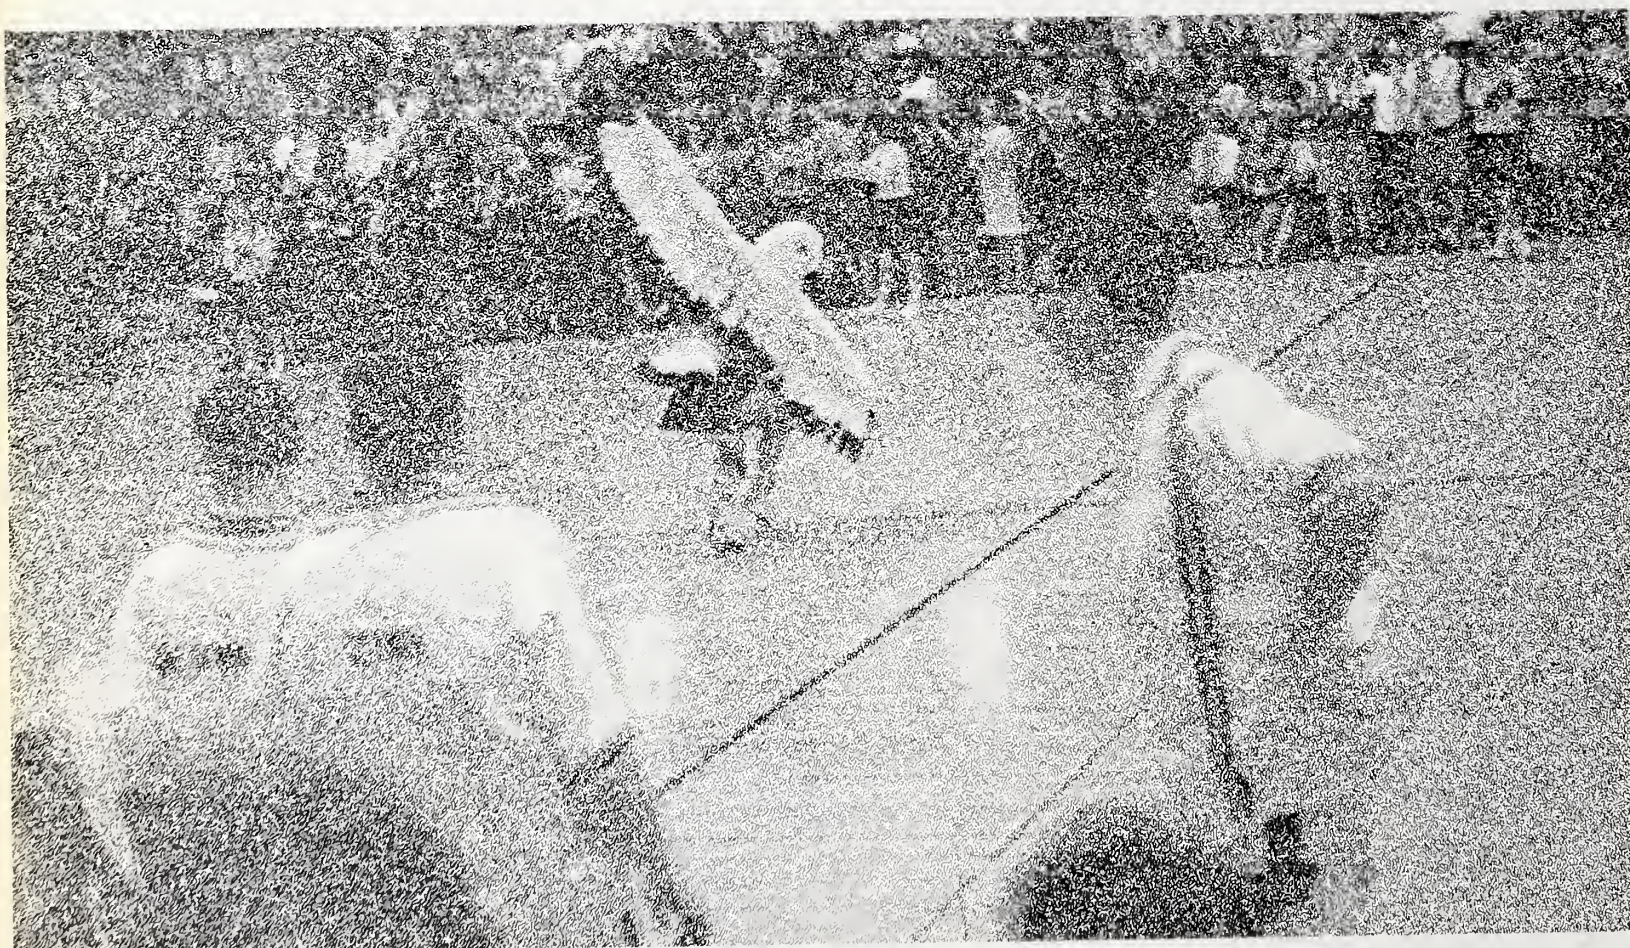

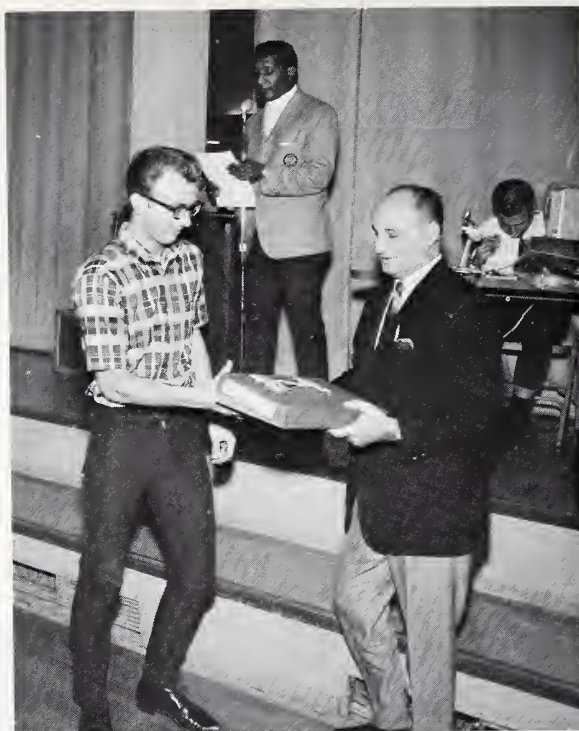

Mr. Kane addresses the students in the gym and those listening on K9TCN.

Cheer for Northeastern or else . . .

Mr. Butler, basketball coach, gives a pep talk as cheerleaders just sit there and look pretty.

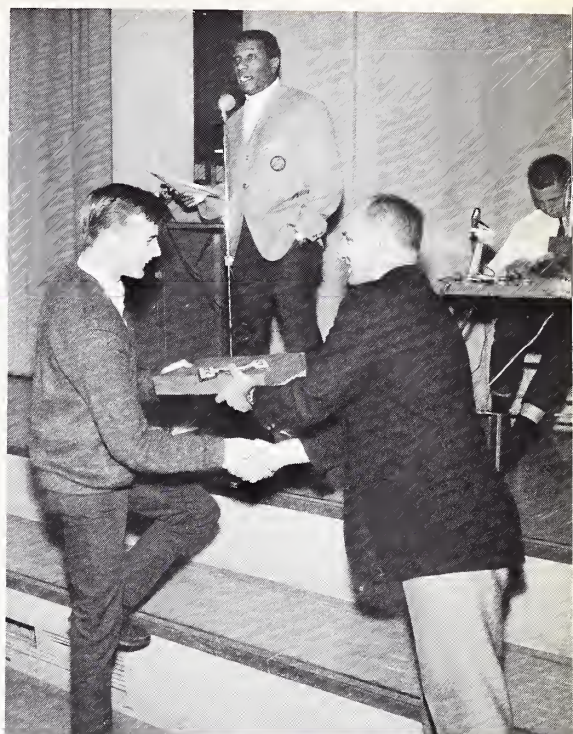

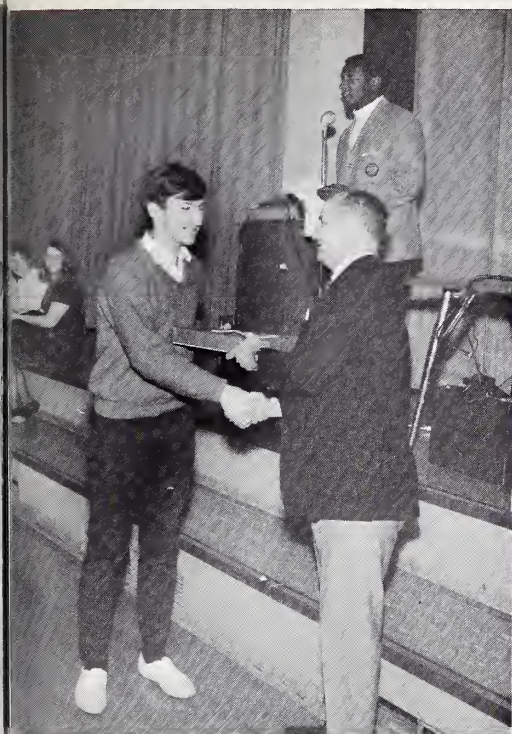

Northeastern's lettermen get their sweaters from Mr. Ziagos.

The Golden Eagle soars as "Streak" Zika and the boys look on.

Dr. Gangware conducts as the band plays some rousing "spirit" music.

Coach Butler-the man of the hour.

Our pride and joy, the Eagles of 1966-67.

The object of the whole show - the now enthused fans.

With the crash of the cymbals a most successful season gets underway.

THE GOLDEN EAGLES

Dan Mele, No. 52, scores a seemingly easy layup for two more points against downtown rival, Roosevelt University.

Basketball, Northeastern's first intercollegiate sport, has proved to be a big favorite among the students. In only their second year, the Eagles compiled a record of 19 wins-6 losses.

Duke Gunter,
No. 22, leaps
high for a layup.

The Center for INNER CITY STUDIES

On August 1, 1966, the Center for Inner City Studies began operation in the Abraham Lincoln Centre, located at 700 E. Oakwood. The purpose of the Center is to help improve the life chances of culturally disadvantaged residents of the inner city by helping teachers to understand the overall problem and to recognize effective means of attacking it.

Beck, Dr. Armin
Associate Professor in Inner City
Studies

Arnez, Dr. Nancy L.
Associate Professor in Inner City
Studies

Smith, Dr. Donald H.
Director of Center for Inner City Studies, Associate Professor in Speech

The initial efforts of the Center are two graduate programs by which master degrees may be earned in Inner City Studies. The first, the Experienced Teacher Fellowship Program, is a full-time program in which twenty-five experienced teachers from throughout the world are enrolled. The second program is an extended-day offering of a similar nature, but for teachers who are in-service during the day and who pursue graduate work in the evening and on Saturdays.

The curriculum in Inner City Studies is a new and experimental approach to urban teacher education. Designed to solve problems of inner city teaching, the program consists of courses in education, anthropology, history, psychology, sociology, literature, and communication.

In addition to the graduate teacher-training programs, the Center works to improve language instruction for disadvantaged pupils. All of these studies enable the Center to offer unusual opportunities for an intimate view of the "culture of poverty".

EPILOGUE

Three times during the past year, eager graduates have faced a world for which they had been preparing themselves. College life continues; clubbers meet, musicians play, actors act, singers sing, and speakers speak, but the graduates are beginning a new life. Many pause and indulge in reflections over their experiences here.

Perhaps the greatest experience is the achievement of a goal, but . . .

. . . college life continues;

clubbers meet, musicians
play, actors act,

singers sing, speakers speak . . .
