CAREER COUNSELOR

Not only men get occupational training in the army. Tuesday, June 2, Captain Bonnie Sweeney and Major Janet Jolin, army medical specialist corps counselors, will be on campus to present the opportunities open to women in dietetics, occupational therapy, and physical therapy.

This career seminar should be of particular interest to those women with an interest or background in science or physical education. Often, a person trained for one particular area of work who has difficulty finding a job--especially prevalent right now--finds that a related field is just as interesting, perhaps more so, than the original.

The object of career counseling is not to entice students into areas of work they will not like, but to make known all possible opportunities. Keep an open mind!

Captain Sweeney and Major Jolin will be meeting students, 2 p. m., in room 128. They will show a 15 minute film.

As government gets bigger and more complex, so grows the need for employees. Carl Bruhn of the State of Illinois personnel office will be interviewing persons interested in a variety of trainee positions now opening in various state offices, 12:30 p. m. - 4:30 p. m., June 3, E 128.

Interested in a health career? If so, see Doris Gleason, 2 p. m., D 128. Miss Gleason is a representative of the Illinois Medical Records Association. She wants to talk with men and women interested in technical writing or hospital and health careers.

The placement office has 22 different leaflets outlining paths to health careers. Stop in and take a look.

With the Faculty

LEO SEGEDIN, associate professor of art, is exhibiting paintings and drawings at the campus planning center until mid-June. He recently had a painting in the Chicago and Vicinity show at the Chicago Institute of Art.

RUSSELL ROLLER, assistant professor of art, recently had a one man show at Kansas State Teachers' College, Emporia, Kansas. His show in Garrett Hall at Northwestern University ended the last of May. He exhibited drawings, paintings, and prints. His work recently was shown at the campus planning center. Roller also was a judge at the Chicago public library film festival, May 14 and 15.

OSELOKA OSADEBE, assistant professor of art, was a guest lecturer at Malcolm X College, May 20, during the "Focus on Black" week there. His subject was "Essence of African Art." Osadebe has taught in Nigeria.

MARIE MC GUCKIN, instructor in music, will present a two week Manhattanville Music Curriculum Program workshop, June 14-25, at Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa.

Civil Service

The register is closed for openings. All positions either are filled or candidates being interviewed.

Now would be a good time to take examinations either in your promotional line or in another class for which you meet qualifications. Contact Diane Langridge at extension 388 to discuss possible promotional opportunities.

Attention!

Material for press releases MUST be in the public information office at least three weeks before the event to assure possible publication in metropolitan, neighborhood, and suburban newspapers.

CLUBS ON CAMPUS

By Carolyn Nielsen

“Il Club Italiano è attivissimo.” Translated that means “Club Italiano is where the action is.” To say it any other way would be an understatement.

Club Italiano was formed during the 1970 fall trimester. The purpose of the club is to introduce its members to the many exciting aspects of the Italian culture. Any student at NISC can become a member.

In the two trimesters of its existence, Club Italiano has engaged in many activities. November 1, after only two weeks of meetings, club members took a field trip to the Art Institute to see a special exhibit of 18th century Italian painting, to the Italian Village for a “home” cooked meal, then to the Auditorium Theatre where Sergio Franchi was appearing.

The group presented Franchi with an honorary membership to the club which he accepted.

Club Italiano meets 1 p. m., Thursdays in room A 125. Every other week there is a special event such as a movie, slide lecture, or guest speaker.

Dr. John P. Maher, associate professor of linguistics, gave a two-part lecture-slide program. Thomas Hoberg, assistant professor of English, lectured on “Dante and his World.” An Italian rock band, Equipe 70, provided music for a very successful mixer.

Activities planned for the future include “Fiesta all ‘aperto,” (a picnic), a soccer exhibition game, an outing to an opera, a series of Italian culture lectures, and the club’s second annual banquet. The first banquet was held in December at Beno’s Restaurant.

Highlight of future activities is a three week trip to Italy during the break in August, 1972.

Sponsor of the Italian club is Dr. Battista Galassi. Gloria Marie Crug is club president.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of Club Italiano should contact Dr. Galassi or Gloria Marie Crug through the Club Italiano mailbox by Student Services.
