Senne Plays For Senior Prom; Class Leaders Urge Support

The most important event of the school year, the Senior Prom, will be held next Saturday, May 24, in the exclusive Gold Room of the Congress hotel. Henry Senne and his boys, one of the most popular of the better orchestras, will set the mood for the occasion with special arrangements of your favorite melodies.

The Prom committee, under co-chairmen Ed Sullivan and Bernadette Walsh, have overlooked no details in planning a night that the entire school will remember for a good while to come. A careful survey of Chicago's best hotels was conducted by the committee before the congress was selected as being most suitable for the occasion. Henry Senne was contacted well in advance to assure his contribution to the success of the affair.

Attire Optional

Formal attire for the Prom is definitely optional. Although many persons will of course go formal, informal dress will be entirely proper.

Peggy Abrams, Denny Donnellan and August Gorske were unanimous in urging support of the dance by their classes. The general opinion was that undergraduates will have an opportunity to show their appreciation for the effort and leadership the seniors have given during the past year as well as to show that they have caught the spirit of cooperation that will soon fit them for their coming leadership in the bulk of school activities.

Tickets are still available and may be purchased for $4.80 from the salesmen around the school. Tickets will be exchanged at the door for the bid itself.

Choir Presents Annual Concert

The choir will present its annual concert in the Assembly Hall on Thursday, May 29, at 12. Theme for the program will be "Around the World — in Spring."

In addition to its other selections the choir will sing "Sleep, Noble Hearts" by Mendelssohn, in observance of Memorial Day.

The group will be assisted by: the orchestra; Etta Lee Strange and Edith Brooker, pianists; Dorothy Lebetzki, violinist; Margarethe Isaacs, cellist; and as soloists, Gertrude Mueller, Kay Graves, Margarita Fiscella, Arlene Breault, Sophia Fine, Charmaine Piccard, Bob Degian, Bill Orris and Harry McHale.

Entertain Guests

Following the concert the members of the choir will entertain their guests in the Co-ed Lounge. Members of the freshman class who will become music majors will serve as ushers and hostesses.

This concert, with the exception of music for Commencement, concludes a busy musical and social season for the choir. "The response of the choir has always been magnificent," says Dr. Cramer, the director. "No matter what the request, whether, in addition to good singing, it was for cars for the picnic, holly bouquets for the Christmas concert, special effort for whistling in the "Donkey Serenade," an impromptu performance for the English classes, or the wearing of "cummerbunds" by the men for the Pan-American Assembly, choir has always responded wholeheartedly. Surely this extra effort and rehearsing, and the desire to serve the College in song, is evidence of exceptional school spirit."

Senate Group Calls Fallico To Washington

Dr. Arturo B. Fallico, of the philosophy department, was called to Washington, D. C. during spring vacation to testify before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Senator Arthur Vandenberg, chairman of the committee, invited qualified personalities from all regions of the United States to offer their opinions on the ratification of the European Peace Treaties. Dr. Fallico attended the sessions which concerned the treaties of Italy. Other members of the group discussing Italy were Vincent Shean, Norman Thomas, and Dorothy Thompson.

Pleads Unity

The main thesis which Dr. Fallico defended was that the principle that ought to govern United States Foreign Policy in Europe should be an eventual economic and political unification in European terms and not in the terms of any non-European powers, by means of peace treaties. Peace treaties are antiquated and could do no more than divide a group of interdependent bankrupt peoples. These treaties represented nothing more than the ultimate failure of the United States and Russia to really get together and the reconstruction of Europe would be a failure on these terms, said Dr. Fallico.

Senators Interrogate

The senators asked Dr. Fallico if he believed that European peoples could unite among themselves if given the opportunity at some future time. Dr. Fallico answered, "I believe they would and it is my conviction that politicians, selfish men, and non-European powers have kept them apart for many years."

United States of Europe

Discussions of the committee seemed to center on the adjustment of power between the United States and Russia, the nations of Europe being taken as pawns in this game of power. Dr. Fallico objected to this, being in favor of taking immediate steps for an eventual consideration of a United States of Europe in which all European nations could find their dignity as well as political and economic unity. It was argued that, from the historical experience of our own country, America, no better principle could be adopted for seriously carrying out the basic idea of the United Nations. Dr. Fallico

TEMPO WINS ALL-AMERICAN RATING

Fellowship Plans Election Today; Holds Tea

Fellowship has scheduled May 20 as election day. The following people are candidates for office: Peggy Abrams, Joan McGrail, Jean Johnson, Shirley Jasper, Joyce Marston, Dee Dee McGovern, Rae Carrol, M. Moran. Runoffs will be held May 23.

Fellowship's Silver Tea, held Sunday afternoon, May 11, at Joan McGrail's, 4719 West Polk, was very successful. A large number of the school's academic social leaders attended and were rewarded by delicious cakes, cookies, sandwiches and other refreshment. Fortunately, the day set for the occasion was one of the most beautiful of the year. The money collected from the affair will be used in furtherance of Fellowships' various philanthropic activities. These people were responsible for the success: Joan McGrail, acting chairman; Dorothy McGovern, in charge of refreshments; Dorothy Buell, publicity chairman; Lorraine Lorocco and Jean Burchett, took care of the tickets; Pat Baker, distributed invitations to the faculty.

concluded by asserting, "The Italian Peace Treaty, I think, is a political and economic monstrosity which works hand in hand with those who would start preparing Europe as the battlefield for the third World War."

Dr. Fallico was deeply chagrined by the fact that the Senators were not responsive to his recommendation that a clause for revision be inserted in the treaties.

Lea Bertani Heads Winning Staff; 9 Papers Out of 52 Win Award

TEMPO, for the first time in its more than eleven years of membership in the Associated Collegiate Press Critical Service, has been awarded an All-American Rating for its five issues of the spring 1946-47 semester. The All-American award is the highest honor that can be won under the present grading system and is interpreted by the ACP as "superior."

Only nine of the fifty-two competing publications in Tempo's classification succeeded in winning this honor. In this classification were all bi-weekly college publications in schools of over 500 enrollment which are members of the ACP Critical Service. The papers in the competition were distributed as follows: All-American, 9; First Class, 15; Second Class, 22; Third Class, 6. Lea Bertani

A large part of the credit for the award must go to Lea Bertani, editor-in-chief of last semester's paper, and Miss Ellen M. Frogner, who last semester took over as faculty sponsor for the first time.

Bulk of the credit, of course, must go to the staff, which is now composed of essentially the same people that comprised it last semester.

Lowest Score Is "Good"

The grading was done by Professors of journalism at the University of Minnesota.

The lowest number of points received on any of the criteria was 30 out of a possible 50. Even that score, however, is interpreted on the official scoring sheet as being between good and very good. In the following areas, Tempo received a top score: news coverage, content of news stories, organization of news,

Civic Assembly Honors Students

Selected as the outstanding graduates of Chicago Teachers College for the past year were Lea Bertani, February '47 and Mary Jane Krump, June '47. Both were honored at the Civic Assembly held Thursday, May 14, 1947, as part of Chicago Youth Week. Graduates were also selected from the City Junior Colleges and high schools.

In making the decisions, the following were the criteria by which the participants were selected: scholastic standing, character rating, participation in school activities, and real qualities of leadership.

Mary Jane Krump also appeared on the "Citizens of Tomorrow" program heard last Sunday on WGN.

Lea Bertani will be remembered chiefly as editor of Tempo September '46-February '47 and Mary Jane Krump has been active in school activities and is now serving as president of Student Council.

typography, inside news page make-up, and printing.

In presenting the award, the ACP stressed that the rating "is not to be used as an indication of progress from one year to the next." The only true information the rating can give, it was stated, is how our paper compares with other papers published last semester.

Official Notices

Examinations to be offered by the Board of Examiners, Board of Education, for the following:

1. Change from Kindergarten Primary to Intermediate and Upper Grade Curriculum.
2. Change from Intermediate and Upper Grade to Kindergarten Primary Curriculum.

Sometimes students have entered Chicago Teachers College uncertain that the level of teaching they had selected — kindergarten primary or elementary — was the one in which they had the greater interest or for which they were better fitted. To help students decide before the sophomore year, when specialization begins, Miss Olson and Miss Wilky have been visiting freshman classes, explaining the new possibility of making a final decision this semester.

An opportunity is offered to freshmen to change from Intermediate and Upper Grade training to Kindergarten Primary training by means of an examination in MUSIC ONLY.

Similarly the present Kindergarten Primary registered student may change to Intermediate and Upper Grade by means of the MATHEMATICS examination ONLY.

Students who wish to make either change should fill out an application blank with Mrs. Murphy in Room 105C, by Thursday, May 15, to take either the Music or Mathematics examination.

Examinations

Final examinations will be given during the period from June 5-10 in all classes. Senior students will not be required to take these examinations.

A detailed examination schedule will be posted within the next week. J. I. Swearingen.

Grades

All students, including the June 1947 graduates, will please leave a stamped self-addressed envelope in Room 105C as soon as possible. We will mail your June grades in these as soon as possible.

February Graduates

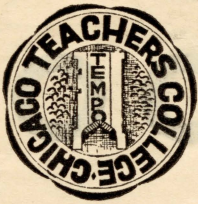

Those students who expect to graduate February, 1948, will please make application for graduation in Room 105C immediately.

Indoor Sportsmen

What's wrong with the men of CTC? The call for baseball candidates drew a paltry 22 men out of a school enrollment of over 200 men. The basketball team eked out a season with ten men, taxing the few players on the team to the utmost. There is no football, track, tennis, or other competitive sport at CTC because the men show no interest in them.

Before the war, CTC fielded teams in baseball, basketball, tennis, football and track, in addition to intramural and interschool competition in all the above named sports plus golf, table tennis, badminton, swimming and others. The war, obviously, is over, so what is wrong with the present male populace?

Of course, not all men are Physical Education minors, but the thrill of sporting competition is sadly lacking. Why do the majority of the men prefer the rough and difficult game of bridge to all other sports? The matter rests with the men of CTC. It's up to them!

Verse And Reverse

By Jean Burchett and Jim Morley

On the first of each month there arises a terrific clamor, a wailing, moaning and gnashing of teeth unequalled since the dawn of time. If you listen closely you may hear, in the midst of the tearful howling, this whispered prayer:

O, please Mr. Congressman,
Hark to our plea,
The checks ain't arrived yet,—
Education ain't free!

The profs here have learned us
Refinement and poise,
And dealt mighty decent
With all of us boys;

But if you don't send us
The greenbacks a-plenty
We'll have to switch college
Fer 52-20.

W. T. Beauchap, Jr.

No wonder the hen gets discouraged—she never can find things where she laid them.

Ed's note—we lost that last one too—

Speaking of troubles—and we weren't but we gotta say something—you should hear my troubles. This practice teaching—these questions!!

I asked one of the pupils what happened when it rained 40 days and 40 nights.

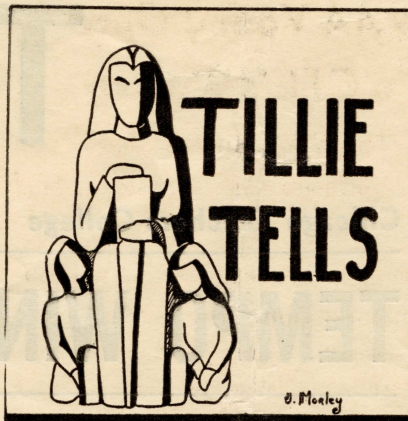

He answered—"The natives said it was very unusual."

Must have been natives of California.

My uncle Looie just blew in on a stiff breeze. He's quite a guy. He used to boast that he was "Captain of his Destiny" but since he got married he has been reduced to the ranks.

When I asked him who the head of the household was he said his wife used to be but since his daughter grew up he is ruled by a commission form of government—or should I say overruled.

Uncle Looie was in one of the local soda joints and there was only one other man at the counter. As unk set there sipping his soda the other gentleman paid his bill, walked up the wall, across the ceiling down the other wall and out the door. Looie turned to the waitress and asked "Isn't that unusual? Did you see what he did? The waitress thought a moment and then said: "Yes now that you mention it, it is—he never says goodnight!!!" —And so goodnight.

"I was strolling thro' Hamilton Park one day, in the merry, merry month of May, when to my great surprise, I spied nine CTC men catching flies, . . . and not the winged type, but those with red stitching on their sides." (My attempts at rhyming are more appalling than Don Taylor's jokes.)

With "murder the ump" season in full swing here at the institute, it gives me ample chance to "bat around" a few names of note, and let you in on all the "errors" they've tallied up. At first I thought Bob Grimes was being cured for temper tantrums, until I discovered that the wired mask he wears is part of the catcher's regalia. Heard "Luke" Dillon and "Sore Arm" Walsh singing a heart rending duet on the players' bench 'titled . . . 'Gimme a chance at bat, will ya' coach???' Don't you understand fellas, we're saving you two for the championship game.

Rattles are raised on high to "Papa" Mel Lubershane, and his brand new bundle from heaven. Our proud Pappy was busy passing out the cegars, along with all the vital statics; and "old timer" Dan Trahey flashed out a picture of his 19 month old Tommy. Might as well include Larry McBride on the "pink and blue" honor roll, too, . . . his Larry Jr. is 21 months old.

Dor Burns is another Elsa Maxwell, loves throwing parties! Shirl Starr for that matter, too . . . me? I like to attend.

Those shopping bags you see Pat Durkin walking thro' the halls with harbor her lunch! She carries a seven course feast, cutlery and finger bowl in those sacks. Dessert is often half a watermelon.

CTCers were blinded with a sudden flash of sunshine last week . . . the windows were washed!

Chanced upon Matt King dashing to class with a stylish little handbag tucked under his arm. Handy, aren't they Matt??

(Editor's note: Free speech. Bah!)

Personal item: "Colette, would you kindly return the trousers I loaned you . . . I need them!" signed "GeneFous Jim."

Seems Colette was one of the scores of canoers that "fell in the drink" at the Dan Griffin Day picnic . . . others in the impromptu "splash party" were Peg Donegan, Peg Williamson, Jeanne Connelly, Duke Quaid, Betty Amond, and "Red" Roth. The water was fine.

Did you note the twin shirts on Peggy Cortilet and Joe Svercik, . . . uh-huh!

The title of the week goes to Philip Cotsones—"The Briefcase." Paid Plug: "Yea, White Sox" . . . that goes for Til, too.

The campus lawn is daily blanketed with lounging students . . . "sun lovers" all. That's where I'm heading for right now . . . "Bye, Bye," Til.

Pros and Cons On Final Exam Surveyed by Inquiring Reporter

The question placed before the students for reaction this week is: "Are you in favor of final examinations?"

Therese Heffernan, junior:

"It isn't so much a question of whether or not we should have final exams, but rather that the students should know about them before three-quarters of the semester is over."

Marie Baker, sophomore:

"If teachers can't tell what students know after having them a semester, how can they tell in two hours."

Aurelius Moody, freshman:

"Finals call for too much cramming, which is not an adequate method of determining the capacity of the student."

Cloda Augelli, senior:

"Yes, there should be final exams if announcement is made well in advance."

Mary D'Angeles, sophomore:

"I don't believe it's fair to put too much emphasis on one examination that covers a semester's course of study."

Dorothy Smith, freshman:

"I think finals should be given but should not comprise too large a percentage of the entire grade."

Jack Levine, junior:

"No final exams, because in the greater percentage of the courses, examinations are given throughout the semester."

Alberta Scharenberg, freshman:

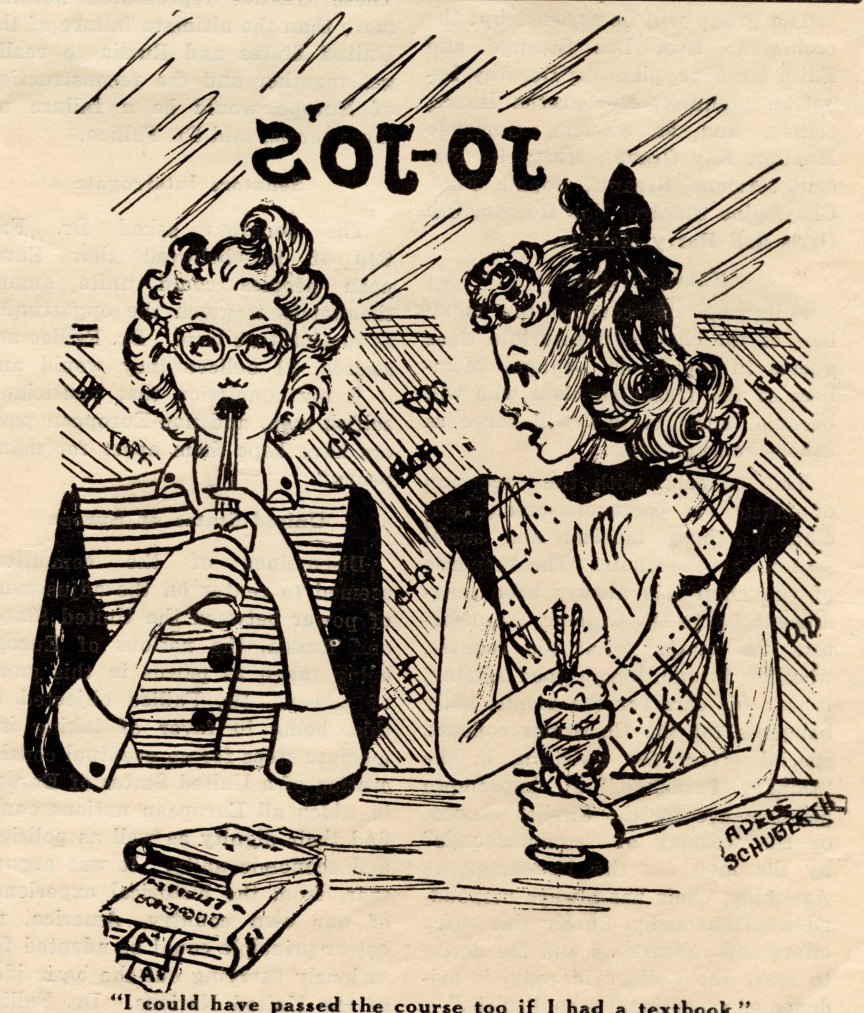

"Yes, I believe in . . . not two hours in . . . ing the entire semester work."

June Lackey, Senior:

If we want to put CTC on a level with other colleges I believe we need final exams.

Lorraine Healy, Junior:

To be able to write a good comprehensive exam the student body should be informed of the measure at the beginning of the semester. If once announced, a precedent could be set for future semesters. This would help to keep CTC up to college standards.

"I could have passed the course too if I had a textbook."

Baseball Squad Loses Two Games; St. Joe and Ill. Tech. Victors

The Colonel nine lost two games on the road; one to St. Joseph's 14-3, the other to Ill. Tech, 7-1. After two scoreless innings, St. Joe put across 7 runs in the third, added 3 more in the fourth, 1 each in the fifth, sixth and 2 more in the eighth to vanquish the error minded CTC's 14-3. The Rens made only 8 hits off of CTC pitcher Ziagos, but the Colonels committed 13 errors to hand St. Joe the game. The Colonels put 3 markers across in each of the 6th, 8th, and 9th innings, but it was too little and too late.

The Colonels opened their '47 season losing to DePaul 7-3, and dropped the encore engagement 6-3. In both games, the Demons jumped to an early lead and romped home with the ball games.

In the first game, DePaul scored two runs in each of the second, third, and fourth innings and in the fifth to rack up its fifth straight win of the season. DePaul cashed in on CTC's two errors, which proved costly to the Colonels. In the fourth, after Kryda had walked, Dillon made a two-base error on Peregud's fly, and then Gillespie singled both runners

Colonels scored in the fifth. Mulka was hit by a pitched ball; Ziagos, Houlehan and Lilek each singled for two CTC runs. They made an unearned run in the top of the seventh, when Lilek was safe on Steffan's error, and Excell doubled him home. The play was ragged as six errors were committed by both teams in the game.

The Teckhaws added another in the sixth and 2 more in the eighth to clinch the game 7-1. The only CTC score was a Grimes Bros. run, as Jim Grimes tripled in the 4th, and Brother Bob singled him home. Each Grimes brother garnered three hits. The only other hit was a single by Briggs in the 6th.

Set Date For Annual WAA Spring Banquet

The annual spring banquet of the WAA will be held on Wednesday, May 21 at Tracy's-on-the-Avenue. Dorothy McGovern and Mary B. Gallagher are in charge of the plans for the banquet. Every student in the school is invited to attend this affair. The dinner will cost the nominal sum of $1.98.

All awards for WAA activities will be made at this dinner. Two graduating seniors are expected to win the new final award, which is to be given for the first time at CTC.

Dick Briggs, Colonel right fielder, takes a healthy cut at the ball in the recent George Williams game. His two hits helped the Colonels win this contest 8-0.

In the return game, DePaul kept up its winning ways cashing 5 runs in the first 3 innings, and another in the sixth for a 6-3 win. The Demons jumped on Colonel pitcher Mulka for 3 runs in the first, after which Etten hurled 2 hit ball. The Colonels presented the Demons with 3 unearned runs during the game by committing six costly errors. The Colonels earned their 3 runs, scoring 1 in the 1st on Taylor's single and Briggs' triple; 1 in the fourth, on Briggs' double and Etten's single, and 1 in the seventh on Liler's double, and Mulka's single! With tiger defense, the Colonels may have beat DePaul—but didn't.

WAA Voting Open To CTC's Women

The WAA will hold its election of officers on Tuesday, May 20, from 11 to 2. All CTC women are eligible to vote at this election.

The candidates for president are: Bernice Goldstick and Florita Laughlin. The candidates for vice-president are: Ardeth Magee, Gwen Neufeld, and Doris Pohlman. Those aspiring for the office of secretary are: Ruth Gilke, Dorothy McGovern, and Catherine Solon. Aspirants for the office of treasurer are: June Kennedy, Nancy Kniffen, and Lillian Paczkowski. With such a list of exceptionally fine candidates, it will be hard to choose next semester's officers—whatever four win the election will prove worthy of their offices.

Colonels Battle Geo. Williams Today; Victorious in First Clash

The Colonels engage the George Williams nine at Hamilton Field this afternoon, and are pointing towards their second victory of the 1947 campaign. George Williams is the only team the Colonels have beaten. In that game, played at George Williams, the Colonels blanked the home team 8-0, with Etten hurling a six hit shutout. The Colonels started their scoring in the second when Mulka walked, stole second, and after Bob Grimes walked, came home on Briggs' single. The Colonels added three more in the fourth, with a walk to Etten, doubles by Excell and Jim Grimes, and a single by Mulka. In the sixth, Grimes was hit by a pitched ball, Mulka singled, Briggs doubled to left scoring the two base runners, and then stole third and home for the third tally. The Colonels scored their last run in the seventh, with a single by Toggenburger, an error, and Jim Grimes doubled. Etten was never in danger, although in the second and sixth Williams had two men on and failed to score both times.

Girls Win Tennis Return Match, 5-1

On May 8, the Girls' Tennis team beat North Central College 5 matches to 1 in a return match played here at the college. In a previous match played at North Central, the two teams had divided their matches 3 to 3.

The team won all four of their singles matches: Bary Primpas won first singles 6-1, 6-3; Anna Mary Green won second singles 6-4, 6-3; Helen Wainauskis won third singles 8-6, 6-1; and Phyllis Swanson won fourth singles 6-1, 6-3. Bary Primpas and Eleanor Dorman also won second doubles 6-1, 6-1; but Dorothy Kozelluh and Phyllis Swanson lost first doubles 8-6, 6-3.

The girls are now looking forward to their matches next fall with Wheaton and North Central Colleges.

of the various student problems with which the organization can deal on a local, regional, and national level. The Chicago Teachers College is active in the Illinois region in preparing for the Wisconsin Convention through the work of Richard Thompson, delegate. Thompson, elected treasurer of the regional organization, is carrying a responsible position in furthering this undertaking. Students are urged to follow the developments of the National Student Organization. It is the students' method of effective presentation of their problems.

Dunes Trip Tickets Go On Sale; Quota Set For Every Class

Exhausted? Does assiduous studying get you down? Well, whether you're tired or not, come to the Student Council Dunes Trip June 7 and 8. Dunes Committee Chairman Harper Philbin promises that the trip will really be great. The chartered buses will leave the school for Indiana Dunes State Park at noon Saturday and will return to Chicago Sunday evening.

There will be 150 tickets on sale from May 26 to May 30 for $7.75 each, which is a little advanced over last year's price, but not high at all when the inclusions are realized. The price covers hot dogs, potato chips, and cokes for a wiener roast; lodging for one night, three meals, bus fare to the Dunes, and transportation to church Sunday morning. If cars are used, the price is still the same. However, if the Student Council does not lose money on the buses, some of the $7.75 will be returned to those students not using the buses.

Room Size Varies

The rooms Saturday night will be for one to four people. If a certain room size is desired, be sure to tell the ticket salesman so that reservations can be made. The ticket salesmen are: for the Seniors — Frank Brennan, Grace Nora, Florence O'Neill, and Jack Mahoney; for the Juniors—Chuck Johnson, Pat Baker, and Peg Abrams; for the Sophomores—Denny Donnellan, Ardeth Magee and Katy Laughlin; for the Freshmen—Don Edgar, Mary Gallagher, and Dorothy Smith. Denny Donnellan is also in charge of the wiener roast Saturday night.

There will be a ticket quota for each class so hurry and get a ticket before they're sold out. This trip may not be exactly a panacea, but it will come pretty close to it, and who knows, it may snap you out of your spring laziness in time to pull all A's in the final exams. So why not buy a ticket? Never before has so much enjoyment come wrapped up in one package.

CTC-Wilson Council Discusses Library Unit

At a joint CTC-Wilson Student Council meeting recently plans were discussed with Miss Ream, the head librarian, and Mr. Swearingen concerning the construction of a magazine office in the southeast corner of the library. This magazine office will aid tremendously in curbing the disappearance and depletion of the current periodical stacks. Under the proposed system a student wishing to read a magazine will have to give his library card for the magazine. The card would be given back on the return of the magazine. To insure magazines for class assignments, instructors will inform the librarian of the magazines to be used so that there will be a large enough supply on hand.

Also discussed was the unorthodox manner in which some books have been removed from the library, some never to be returned. To remove the temptation from hurried students, the closed stack policy will be enforced and no brief cases will be allowed in the library. This way the students will have to sign out books in the correct manner.

In discussing fines, it was discovered that they are lower at CTC than at most other colleges and universities.

Junior Class Honors Seniors At Luncheon

Our graduating seniors will be the honored guests of the junior class at a 2:00 luncheon Tuesday, May 27 in the cafeteria. The juniors have arranged a feature program including the delightful duet of "Sweeney and Trunk" in a skit depicting typical college life. Grace Nora of "Call It College" fame will undoubtedly score another success when she combines her genius with that of Mary Jane Krump and Florence O'Neill to produce a class prophecy and will.

As added attractions each attending senior will receive a gift, and each attending junior and senior will be excused from his or her 2:00 class. Peg Abrams, junior class president, will also present a salutatory address.

Dick Lister, chairman of the luncheon announced his committee consisting of Lorraine Healy, Lorraine Olson, and Marie Strunk, with Colette O'Malley handling decorations.

Colored Slides Highlight Math Club Banquet

March 19 was the date of Kappa Nu Epsilons annual banquet, which was held at the Triangle Restaurant downtown. Nearly eighty people, many of whom were alumni, attended this second annual affair. Among the guests was Dr. Johnson, former math instructor, who expressed surprise at seeing so many present. Ted Hagen-see was the master of ceremonies who did an excellent job of keeping everyone in laughing spirits between courses. One of the highlights of the evening was the showing of beautiful colored slides and motion pictures. These pictures were taken by Mr. and Mrs. Urbancek while they were traveling through the mountainous western part of the U. S.

Wednesday, April 23, at 3 in the Coed Lounge, the new members of KME were formally initiated. Refreshments were served, and an added feature to the program was the presentation of a surprise gift, in the form of fraternity stationery, to the new KME members.

On Campus

• Aslund Visits

Mr. Aslund, a representative of the Swedish government, has visited the D. S. Wentworth School where he observed and made recordings of first grade reading classes, and fourth grade arithmetic classes. Dorothy Krupa, who is student-teaching at Wentworth, had a brief social studies discussion lesson recorded.

Elect New Council Leaders; Ria Burns Wins Top Office

Ria Burns, presently serving as Junior Class representative to Student Council, was elected the new president of that organization for the coming year. Opposing her in the election was Sam Altshuler. Ria Burns has been extremely active in school activities. In addition to her present position on Student Council she has served as block commissioner as a freshman, president of her sophomore class, election commission chairman for Student Council, and has served as member for many school committees. Ria Burns is a Home Economics minor.

Lorraine Healy was victorious over both Pat Baker and Chuck Graves in the race for vice-president. Lorraine is the present treasurer of Student Council and has held some position in the group since her freshman year.

Mary Gallagher, freshman, was the successful candidate in the field of three for the office of secretary, and Rich Thompson was chosen as treasurer.

Social Ends Semester Activities of Sophs

To bring the spring semester to a gala close, the sophomore class had its last meeting in the form of a social. The meeting was held in the co-ed lounge at the regular Thursday noon free period.

Business of the meeting was to see if the class approved of a picnic and to discuss the projects of the class for the semester.

After Denny Donnellan thanked his class members for their help, the meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served. Dancing followed to juke box music.

The last activity of the semester is the night baseball game at Comiskey park on May 28. The tickets are $1.80 apiece and should be purchased from Denny Donnellan as soon as possible.

Peace Hopes Outlined By Dr. Morganthau

"The world is too small for 52 nations to live peaceably when two or more have the atomic bomb. World government seems to be the only way out." With this admonition to the students of the College Dr. Hans Morganthau, Associate Professor of Political Science at the University of Chicago set forth his ideas on the United Nations Organization May 6 in the auditorium.

Professor Morganthau, who is a widely known authority on international law, listed the three pre-requisites to world peace as: a monopoly of organized violence, certain principles of justice to which all except possibly a minority agree, and a transfer of loyalty from a national state to a world state.

Frosh Plan Picnic, Sweater Purchase

CTC's freshman class has embarked upon two new projects. First, the freshmen intend to buy sweaters for all freshman members of the baseball and basketball team. Money will be taken from the proceeds from the freshman spring dance.

Secondly, plans are being made for a freshman picnic. Kathrine Austin, chairman for the picnic, announced that the picnic will be held on Monday, June 16, at Palos Park. Admission is fifty cents.

Alumni Sponsor Cocktail Party For Seniors

The Chicago Teachers College Alumni Association is sponsoring a cocktail party in honor of the senior class on Sunday, May 25 at the continental hotel. The event will start at 3 and last 'til 7. All members of the senior class are urged to attend. Seniors and their friends will be admitted free.

Alumni president, Fred Week, in announcing the affair, stressed the importance of the Alumni Association for graduates of the college.

In charge of the party committee is Weldon Munson, an active member of the Association. In addition to president Fred Week, alumni officers are: Rosemary Shortall, vice-president; Lynn Kocimski, secretary; and Jack Iorio, treasurer.

Dr. Bush Cites Poor Care of Mental Patients

At the open meeting of the Psychology Club on May 8, a talk was given by Mr. Pat Bush of the Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene on "Conditions in Mental Hospitals in Illinois." Mr. Bush spoke of the deplorable conditions in the so-called "backwards" of such mental hospitals as the Chicago State Hospital and Elgin State Hospital. At the former hospital, patients in "backwards" are given absolutely no treatment for their mental disorders, he explained.

For about ten years now, according to Mr. Bush, there are only two guards to every two hundred and fifty violent cases.

In speaking of eating conditions in the two hospitals, Mr. Bush told the group that the hospital has to have mental patients working in the kitchens because of the shortage of kitchen help. He explained that the shortage was due to the fact that the State of Illinois does not pay a living salary to its hired help in mental institutions.

Lorraine Healy & Co. Collect $50 on Tags

Those twenty "lovelies" of CTC, led by Lorraine Healy, collected better than fifty dollars on the tag day for student relief at the Pan American assembly. This money will be used to ship the clothing, gathered here to ragged students in Europe and Asia.

During the week before spring vacation over two hundred pounds of coats, blouses, suits and other articles were donated by a minority of the faculty and students.

This was the first project of the National Student Organization on our campus.
