GUESTS ATTEND SPANISH CONTEST

The Spanish Poetry Declamation Contest, co-sponsored by the Spanish Language Faculty and the Spanish Club, was presented Thursday, November 8th in the Little Theatre and the Auditorium.

The program began at 12:00 P.M. in the Little Theatre. After a short word of welcome by Mary Anne Routson, president of the Spanish Club, Mrs. Najera took over as master-of-ceremonies for the poetry contest. Judging this portion of the competition were: Mr. Julio Jolly (ITCC-N), Dr. Betoret-Paris (University of Illinois), and Dr. Maso (Havana University). Competition was on five levels (Spanish I-V).

Part-two of the program was conducted in the Auditorium. Mrs. Zimmerman, Dean of Women, was the master-of-ceremonies for the impromptu speech competition. Judging this event were: Miss Berquist (University of Illinois), Dr. Cardena (University of Chicago), Mrs. Cholden (Chicago Board of Education), and Dr. Howenstine (ITCC-N). Native and non-native speakers participated in the impromptu competition. Instead of having a topic assigned to them, they were allowed ten seconds to view a slide. The Auditorium's excellent Multi-Media equipment was thus put to good use.

Alice Couvelis and Connie Erickson provided entertainment after the speech competition by singing Versos Sencillos and Dice la Guitarra (two of the poems that were used in the poetry contest).

Winners in the poetry contest were: Margaret Kole (Spanish I), Janet Gunderson (Spanish II), Marie Mason (Spanish III), Mrs. Nancy DeVries (Spanish IV), and Elva Rivera (Spanish V). In the impromptu speech competition, Carmen Perez won the native speaker category, while Carol Rotollo emerged the victor among the non-native speakers.

The contest, which is gradually assuming the role of a traditional event at our school, was a great success.

Students Speak About Parking Problems

by Cathy Murphy

Now that we have heard from the faculty and the administration concerning the problem of parking at ITCC-N, perhaps it's time that we heard some of the opinions of the students and what is being done to alleviate the situation.

At the present time, there is a tentative plan to make a temporary parking lot at the east end of the athletic field. This may help the situation, but it won't solve it. The Student Senate has paid the dues for two students to enter the Holly-

Nurse Joins Staff

Have you recently been run over by a run-away coffee cup or been the victim of someone who decides that you are the perfect partner for his ju-jit-su demonstration? If so, then you can avail yourself of the new department at ITCC-N, Health Services. This new addition is located in Room G138 (within the former offices of Academic Advisement). In charge of Health Services is Miss Marion Etten, R.N. Among the services provided by Miss Etten are first aid (medical or surgical) for all students, administrators, faculty, and staff. Whenever someone needs the services of this department, he should either go directly to Room G138 or phone Ext. 348. If the nurse is not available, contact Mrs. Zimmerman (Ext. 357) and Mr. Ziagos (Ext. 351) or any other member of the Physical Education Department.

Viet Nam Talks...

Faculty Sponsors Round Table Discussion

A faculty sponsored round table discussion on the Viet Nam conflict is tentatively scheduled for Tues. Dec. 16 at 10 AM in the Little Theater.

Two faculty members will support the present policy and two will repudiate the stand. Dr. Wardy will act as moderator for the group.

All students and faculty are invited.

Students Take Action SENATE VOTES AGAINST CLABAUGH ACT

by Barb Baldwin

ITCC-N received a letter from the University of Illinois-Circle Campus asking our support in their campaign against the Clabaugh Act of the State Legislature. This act states:

A) a speakers committee is to be established to screen all prospective speakers on campus:

B) political candidates, in order to speak on campus, must be members of a party recognized as legal in Illinois and:

C) he must be a candidate for a statewide or national office, e.g. Richard Daley, next year when he is a candidate for Mayor will be unable to speak on campus.

Tom Hebel volunteered to investigate this proposal and to

ATTENTION

Because of a change in the content of the course, the Natural Science Division asks all students who completed Physical Science I prior to September, 1966 to enroll in Sections 01, 02, 07 or 08 of Physical Science II for the winter trimester. Students who are currently taking Physical Science I are asked to enroll in any of the other sections.

Students Debate Conflict

As part of the joint CWC IV sessions in the Auditorium this semester, there will be a student debate on Viet Nam on Wednesday, November 30, at 1:00 p.m. Four Students from four sections, two Pro and two Con, will participate, to be followed by open discussion from the audience. Dr. Moorhead will serve as moderator of the debate. Faculty and students at large are welcome to attend this exchange of views.

report to the Senate at the next meeting.

The Student Senate voted against the Clabaugh Act and agreed to support University of Illinois in their campaign against it. Petitions will be drawn up and circulated for signatures.

OTHER SENATE NEWS

A temporary charter was granted to the Negro History Club by the Student Activities Committee.

John Podraza emphasized the fact that the Senators should be promoting the Faculty Wive's Cookbook.

The Physical Education Majors Club's Constitution was approved.

Bonita Karakiewicz will be the student representative chosen by the Senate to go to Denver for the Conference of the Union For Research and Experimentation in Higher Education (UREAHE) from Dec. 1-4. Three faculty members will be attending with her. Rick David was chosen as the alternate in the event that Bonita cannot attend.

The Variety Show Committee announced the name of the program will be Carnaby Street, U. S.A., with the theme being vaudeville. Tryouts were held Nov. 7-18 and the Show will be in January. The show's schedule is in the Senate Office.

UNICEF Materials are on sale in front of the library. Curricular and Christmas items will be sold at posted hours.

Wanted-Your Signature!

If you have ever had an urge to sign a petition now in the time. And you even have a choice of causes.

One group of students is circulating a petition which asks President Sachs to guarantee students future use of Room E. 205 for recreational activities. The INTERIM is asking all students to sign a form protesting the allocation of student areas for the use of faculty. (See page 3 for editorial on this and be sure to cut out, sign, and deposit the form in one of the boxes outside the cafeteria.)

Another group of students are circulating petitions on behalf of Dr. Ruth Ellis.

Get your pen ready and sign away!

David Deer and Jean Selch were unanimously approved of for membership in the Hollywood-North Park Civic Association in the name of the students of ITCC-N to protect the students' and school's interest in this community.

The Student Senate agreed to accept responsibility for the newsstand that was installed in the school on Nov. 4.

The choosing of delegates to attend the Model United Nations, sponsored by the University of Wisconsin, was tabled until next meeting.

Mrs. Zimmerman asked that students be on a committee with the faculty for choosing furniture for student lounges. Her request was granted.

Bonita Karakiewicz's proposal concerning the amount of power the Student Senate should have over the Student Union was approved by the Senate; 18-for, 1-against.

Festival Committee reported that they sent out flyers to announce their coming show of which the theme will be vaudeville.

The Recreation Room Committee tried to obtain a soft drink machine for the Student Union but realized they now had a new problem. There would be a need for more electrical power to that room and water piped in for the machine since it is not self-containing.

The Convocation and Graduation Committee will try to procure Mr. Hesselberg of the Kon-Tiki Expedition as a speaker for the Graduation Exercises. Also it was decided at a meeting to have 6 students as marshalls instead of the traditional 2. Dr. Howenstine and Mrs. Zimmerman were going to talk about the new decision as they were still in favor of the traditional two marshalls.

The Public Relations Committee wants to start an Alumni Association and put a model of the school on display on the campus.

Student Fees and Allocations Committee gave $2,000 to the band for payment of instruments and the P.E. Majors Club was allotted $615. The SKE budget was tabled.

The Fact Finding Committee reported that it could cost about $2,500 for another Miss ITCC-N pageant. When a poll was taken it seemed as though the students would rather have the dance instead of the pageant.

Marquette University will hold a National Student Association Dec. 18 and 19. We had formerly been members and are now debating as to renewing our membership. This subject will be looked into and reported on at a later date.

The Psychology Club and the Civil Rights Organization were granted full charters.

THE SOUNDING BOARD

In this issue of the Sounding Board we present two men's views on one subject.

Mr. Sabin, a member of the history department at our school, has written a reply to an editorial by Mr. Alan McIntosh of the Rock County Herald, Luverne Minnesota. Mr. Sabin originally sent his manuscript to the Journal of Illinois School Boards Association, but was too late for their deadline. He has kindly submitted to the INTERIM for publication.

Mr. McIntosh gave us permission to reprint his article only if we agree to print a statement from him. We have included that statement at the beginning of this article.

"We don't know who this Mr. Sabin is - it is rather peculiar that a faculty member would submit "Tired American" to be published and then his answer to the editorial.

Sort of lugging your own punching bag with you. We have no idea what he may say, good or bad, about "Tired American".

We would think any rebuttal on our part to anything he might say would be interesting. I think the most compelling answers can be found in the letters from fighting men in Viet Nam. A newspaperman is accustomed to being "damned" but this is the first time I have ever had so many say, "God Bless You, Mr. McIntosh". I don't know how to act.

I prefer to read what a lonely youngster in an outpost wrote - after he read "Tired American" which was written in pencil on tablet paper and was being "passed along", to anything Mr. Sabin might say. And there are thousands of letters from other "squares" just as fervent.

No - in all these years in this crazy business I have never heard of anybody running his own "debating society".

A "Tired American" Gets Angry

(Reprinted from The Rock County Star-Herald)

I am a "tired American".

I'm tired of being called the "Ugly American",

I'm tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.

I am a "tired American" - weary of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned and sacked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach "peace" and breed conflict.

I am a "tired American" - weary of being lectured by General DeGaulle (who never won a battle) who poses as a second Jehovah in righteousness and wisdom.

I am a "tired American" . . . weary of Nasser and all the other blood sucking leeches who bleed Uncle Sam white and who kick him on the shins and yank his beard if the cash flow falters.

I am a "tired American" . . . choked up to here on this business of trying to intimidate our government by placard, picket line and sit in by the hordes of the dirty unwashed who rush to man the barricades against the forces of law, order and decency.

I am a "tired American" . . . weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.

I am a "tired American" . . . fed up with mobs of scabby faced long haired youths and short haired girls who claim they represent the "new wave" of America and who sneer at the old fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity, morality on which America grew to greatness.

I am a "tired American" . . . weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with threats of what will happen if we cut off the golden stream of dollars.

I am a "tired American" . . . nauseated by the lazy do nothings who wouldn't take a job if you drove them to and from work in a Rolls Royce.

I am a "tired American" who is tired of supporting families who haven't known any other source of income other than government relief checks for three generations.

I am a "tired American" who is getting madder by the minute at the filth peddlers who have launched America in an obscenity race . . . who try to foist on us the belief that filth is an integral part of culture . . . in the arts, the movies, "literature", the stage and the mobs who see Lenny Bruce as "brightly amusing", and Norman Mailer as "compelling".

I'm tired of these "artists" who scavenge in the cess pools for inspiration and who refuse to look up at the stars.

I am a "tired American" . . . weary of the bearded bums who tramp the picket lines . . . and the sit ins . . . who prefer Chinese communism to capitalism . . . who see no evil in Castro but sneer at President Johnson as a "threat to peace".

I am a "tired American" who has lost all patience with that civil rights group which is showing propaganda movies on college campuses from coast to coast. Movies denouncing the United States. Movies made in Communist China.

I am a "tired American" who is angered by the self righteous "breast beater" critics of America, at home and abroad, who set impossible yardsticks for the United States but never apply the same standards to the French, the British, the Russians, the Chinese.

I am a "tired American" who resents the pimply faced beatniks who try to represent Americans as the "bad guys on the black horses".

I am a "tired American" who is weary of some Negro leaders who, for shock purposes, scream four letter words in church meetings.

Fatigued Over A "Tired American"

by Arthur J. Sabin

Your article, reprinted in the Illinois Schools Board Journal, July-August, 1966, reflects something deeper and more significant than being tired and angry. You had better see your physician immediately; you are well on the way to "blindness" and a constriction of understanding that portends more dangerous results! By the way, you may want to take a United States history textbook along for illuminating reading while waiting for treatment.

You have, indeed, done an amazing job in your statement. It is so utterly devoid of understanding the responsibilities of world leadership, so myopic of the cultural, social and political forces of the nation that your thoughts indicate little hope that the ennuui you experience will be susceptible of cure.

Mr. McIntosh, a proper diagnosis would reveal that you are not tired, but misinformed, not angry, but apparently frustrated. People and ideas are too much for you. Run Dick, Run Jane, Run Alan, Run to the safety of symbols of conformity, of simple answers to complex problems.

Perhaps your case is not hopeless. Can reason and understanding penetrate "your tired blood"? But how? Indicate inconsistencies such as your deprecation of twenty years of a reasonably successful bipartisan foreign aid policy, while crying that the whole world should (as you do) realize that we are the most generous hearted nation dedicated to helping the "have nots"? Or perhaps, have you reflected on your anger at those who would "seek to destroy the belief that America is the land of the free", while you would deny freedom to so many individuals and groups because you dislike their ideas or ways.

No, I would think even a more obvious method of demonstrating your disease is to list those movements, persons, groups and ideas that you despise and from this grand catalogue, create a catharsis that may shock you out of your state.

You have pronounced the following as having made your tired Americanism angry:

1. The United States Foreign Aid Program
2. All nations who dissent from United States foreign policy.
3. Nasser
4. The poor ("dirty unwashed")
5. Dissenters from our government's domestic policies
6. Portions of government's domestic policies.
7. Beatniks
8. Young people who do not wear hair styles you like or suffer from skin problems ("scabby faced")
9. The unemployed
10. The economically distressed or dependent
11. Artistic and literary freedom
12. Lenny Bruce
13. Norman Mailer
14. Dissenters from the Administration's policy on Communist China
15. Dissenters from the Administration's policy on Castro
16. Dissenters from the Administration's policy on Viet Nam
17. Bearded bum (unbearded too?)
18. An unnamed civil rights group
19. Pimply faced beatniks (these apparently differ from the previously cited beatniks)
20. Unnamed Negro leaders who swear in church meetings
21. Klu Klux Klan (unnamed, but obviously referred to)
22. Certain unnamed clergy involved in integration causes
23. Teachers-schools and colleges whom you feel threaten your symbols - particularly bad if they want more pay
24. United States State Department - too timid (time for simple thermonuclear solutions)
25. Anyone who tries to tell you that America (United States?) is not the greatest nation in the world

Indeed, you are angry at a great deal, Mr. McIntosh, but have you not forgotten that what has made this country is not stultified conformity and yea-saying symbol manipulators, but the air of freedom to create, dissent, believe, protest and act? Have you not learned that leadership and ideas for progress come from a history of freedom to ferment, to challenge, to debate openly and without fear of reprisal?

Finally, Mr. McIntosh, do you not understand that your weariness reflects your inability to understand or cope with the main problems of world leadership in a thermonuclear age, and that your anger at those who dissent or are troubled by problems at home or abroad calls for a solution - unthinking conformity to vague symbols - that is frighteningly reminiscent of the appeal of Twentieth Century Totalitarianism - Nazi, Fascist, and Communist? Have you indeed read or do you believe in your last paragraph concerning a "nation..under God..with truly mercy and justice..for all"?

Please get over your lassitude and anger and sense what, indeed, makes a country great.

Faculty Sketch

Languages Can Be Fun

Learning a foreign language can be enjoyable! If you don't believe me, ask Mrs. Pedroso of the Spanish Department. Better yet, ask her students.

At a time when teacher-pupil relationships are becoming increasingly obscure, it is a heart-felt relief to find a teacher who is willing to share more than just knowledge with her students. Such a teacher is Mrs. Pedroso.

The close-knit relationship that she has with her students is no accident. "I believe the relationship between student and teacher should be one of respect, understanding and closeness". In Cuba where she was born, students and teachers develop strong friendships. It is apparent that she has brought her culture with her. In fact, fifty minutes in one of her classes' is like a short trip to a Spanish-speaking country.

The learning of a foreign language can be a very exasperating experience. Realizing this, she attacks the language barrier with a combination of the audio-lingual approach and a three point program, consisting of: overcoming fear of the language, working together with students, and creating interest in the culture of the Spanish-speaking people. This combination has had great success for her.

Her main purpose in teaching Spanish is "to help bring together the cultures of two peoples that are now so close physically, yet so far apart culturally.

Mrs. Pedroso is very proud of her family. She has every reason to be. Her grandfather Juan Bualberto Gomez was a hero in the Cuban revolution, a member of the first cabinet of the Republic, and later served as a senator. Her father was a distinguished judge for 33 years. Mrs. Pedroso's mother besides being the author of a social-studies curriculum book, founded Havana Teachers College.

La señora has a doctorate in civil and criminal law, besides having her masters degree in Spanish. It is interesting to note that she and her husband (he is a physician specializing in pathology), who both graduated from the University of Havana on the same day, were both chosen to represent their respective graduating classes.

Being the mother of two boys, sponsor of the Spanish Club, together with her teaching keeps her very busy. But she still has time for her favorite pastimes: opera, theatre, listening to music, travel (when she's on vacation), and most important of all, conversation.

FACULTY Vs STUDENTS .... GUESS WHO'S THE WINNER

It is done very insidiously. We didn't even realize it at first. But slowly our administration is devouring every inch of space that students once called their own.

The student union, that area over the cafeteria, has 11 offices and one large room. It was built so that students could have a place of their own. At present only four offices and the large room are used by students. Faculty occupy the rest of the area. And shortly the number will be three. The administration needs yet another room for a member of the faculty. It is not content with the inches; only the proverbial mile will do.

The Beehive (yearbook staff) has been evicted-exiled to the subterranean depths of the cloakroom. The only choice that they had was between two evils - a room "unsafe to leave a student alone in" or part of the cloakroom, both rooms completely removed from other student activities. Another faculty member will take over their old office. Faculty needs again come before any student needs. And you, the student, are the real loser. When the cloakroom becomes overcrowded this winter, don't give the Beehive office dirty looks. This is strictly our administration's doing. They alone have earned your complaints.

Students often wait twenty minutes for a cup of coffee and then they may not have a place to sit down to drink it; faculty members cut in front of students in the cafeteria and then take their meals to their airy, bright, uncrowded dining area. Some students have to park several blocks from school; faculty parking lots are often unfilled. Faculty members complain about sharing offices - students have no place to keep their books.

We have been told that people are eyeing the Student Senate office and the INTERIM office and then we visit the business manager's office and gaze upon a desk that is as large as our whole office space is!!

And the end is not in sight. E 205 - the one recreational area students have, could be taken away without the flickering of an eyelid. It does not "belong" to the students - they are using it only for the time being. If our administration needs the room for more faculty, our Student Senate will have to find a home for the pool table.

We have often complained that our office is much too small (ten people in it and there's no room left); but we shouldn't complain. The administration has generously allowed one club room for 30+ clubs to call their very own. Perhaps this explains why clubs often are inactive. Subsisting out of a 3-inch deep mailbox is asking a lot of any campus activity. At the same time, they have taken away the union's storage room.

We have talked to our administration about this problem. The answer they gave us? It's going to get worse. They have more plans to hire more faculty and staff to "serve" the students. We don't need more service - we need a place that we can call our own!

Our administration also told us that "if we could suggest a solution to the problem, they would be glad to consider it." But students shouldn't have to do their work. They are responsible for space allocation. And they must consider the students as often as they consider their faculty and staff. We are the main reason the college exists.

We must do something to stop this insidious take-over of student space. The INTERIM has asked the Student Senate to help support his cause, and we ask all students to stand up for their rights. We ask three things of you. One: Please sign the petition asking the administration to guarantee that Room E 205 will remain as a student recreational and that its size will not be decreased. Two: Please fill out the box on the bottom of the page. We ask you to sign your name and write down how you feel about this problem. If enough students do this, then our administration will have to listen to us. And third: Members of the INTERIM staff will be passing out small badges to all students. Please wear these badges. They will serve as a constant reminder to all administration, faculty, and staff members that students must be considered too.

Death for Sale-- No Money Down

Halloween is thought of as a time for ghosts, goblins, and witches, a time for pumpkin pie and bobbing for apples, a time of make believe. Yet this Halloween, has brought about the realization that what we might deem as a "trick" can backfire and revert to disaster.

The city was shocked to hear that an innocent baby was struck down in its crib by a bullet that had ricocheted off an adjacent building. In addition to this senseless murder, another child was shot in the eye, by an unknown assailant. The hours of fun had turned to times of tragedy.

The problem of possession of fire arms is not an altogether recent one. At the time of the assassination of President Kennedy, the nation was shocked to hear of the relative ease at which a gun could be acquired. Immediate response by the press, television and radio mirrored the public furor. Politicians bellowed for legislation to curb the sale of fire arms. That was three years ago. As of today, there have been no laws enacted to prevent the illegal use of such weapons.

A gun is not a difficult apparatus to secure. All one has to do is to venture to the nearest shopping catalogue. Upon closer investigation, one will see the wide range of models to choose from, guns capable of killing can be purchased for as little as $23.50 (with no questions asked). One catalogue boasts, "Matching single-shot shotguns for adults and youths." The gun specially designed for the youth has, "shorter stock, lighter weight, for easier handling." If that isn't enough, the same company blusters over, "No money down on anything . . . the store sells."

Radio station WLS has come forward with an editorial crying for gun legislation. The Interim feels, as does the station, that public protection will be the keynote of such an operation. It is not intended to curtail the sport of hunting. What is needed is a law that will make it illegal to sell fire arms to a minor or anyone with a prison record, or to have such a weapon in one's possession without a license.

Illinois law requires businessmen to refuse to sell anyone under the age of eighteen a package of cigarettes, but nothing is said about guns. Liquor is not served, or sold to people under the age of twenty-one, yet these same citizens are allowed access to deadly weapons.

How many more Halloweens like the last must we tolerate before the legislators will see fit to do something? How many more sleeping infants will be slaughtered before an end is in sight?

A Hairy Story

Dear Editor,

Have you any idea of what happens when a child says something cute and all the adults around him laugh? Of course, you don't. Your apparent ignorance is illustrated by what you allow in your paper. I am writing to change your ignorant bliss to enlighten disappointment. If adults laugh at a child's cute remark, he feels rewarded. Thus, he continues to say the same thing until it becomes totally obnoxious, causing those who laughed at first to begin to view the same remark with distaste.

Such is the case with the cartoons which appear in each issue of your periodical. At first, the cartoons illustrating longhaired, bearded boys bearing Joe College signs were amusing. However, the cuteness of this has run its course and is now becoming completely, totally and utterly obnoxious. I suggest that you change your methods of poking fun at long hair before the entire school starts looking at your paper with expressions of dis-

A REPLY TO A REPLY

Dear Editor:

If a "Sounding Board" contributor is entitled to some further space by way of reply to the rebuttals of his original statement (on Viet Nam), I should like to make several points, first in response to Mr. Kane's article and secondly to a letter from Mr. Giebutowski.

All analogies are more or less questionable, and I consider the one between Viet Nam and Nazi Germany to be especially dangerous. There are many more differences than there are similarities in the two cases. Mr. Kane then observes that communism is not merely an idea but an ideology that can sustain itself by force alone. I would agree, but isn't it also true that democracy at times so sustains itself--Mississippi, Dominican Republic? As for our commitment, I must point out that it is only a verbal one; we did not sign the Geneva Accords, evidently because we did not consider it in our best interests at the time to do so! I must also question his statement that "should communism succeed in Viet Nam, it will succeed elsewhere." This expression of the so-called "domino theory" is an assumption, and one not held by many experts on communism and Asia. Finally, my raising the matter of conscripting women was really meant tongue-in-cheek. But then there is no real reason not to. Today, aren't women more equal than men?

As for Mr. Giebutowski's rather rhetorical letter with his expression of "shame", I would endeavor to soften his misplaced emotionalism by pointing out that, as a matter of fact, I do not consider myself "dedicated to training future teachers" (of America). Rather my goal is to educate human beings, most of whom will teach; but many of whom will not, and many of the total who will commendably find themselves elsewhere in the world. On the point of communism not being

BIG SCREENS AND LITTLE BUTTONS SERVE STUDENTS

The Auditorium (Multimedia Services) of ITCC-N has one of the most extensive and integrated audio-visual systems specifically designed for large group instruction of any college in the United States.

These facilities are being used by four sections of over 500 students this semester. One CWC 11 section has over 650 students! With classes of this size, special equipment is needed to achieve the desired educational results.

Contained in the 676 seat auditorium are two projection booths, an extensive audio-tape deck, and a student responder system. The equipment can be operated manually from the speaker's lectern or automatically by a control console.

The rear projection booth which utilizes two 9' x 14" rear projection screens, contains six slide projectors, a 16mm movie projector and a television projector. The advantage of having two screens becomes apparent when an instructor wishes to demonstrate comparisons, relationship, and progressive sequences. For example: if a history class is studying colonization in Africa, the left screen could be used to depict African colonies in Circa 1870, while the right screen could show colonial status in 1966.

In the front Projection booth are two 16mm projectors which can be used for the continuous showing of feature length films. A slide projector is also available.

Multimedia's "Friendly Monster"

A student responder system is available to instructors who desire a quick analysis of student opinion. Five hundred of the auditorium's seats are equipped with six buttons (A B C D E Off). Student responses can be read from a monitor on a percentage basis.

Multimedia Services is operated by a three man staff: D.W. Wheetly (Coordinator), John Peirick (Programmer), and Doug Fritzsimmmons (Technician). Working together with the teacher who is planning a Multimedia lecture, the staff tries to use a minimum amount of the Instructor's time in the execution of multimedia lectures.

Although there are individual study programs involving the use of Multimedia facilities small group instruction programs are generally handled by another department of Learning Services (e.g. Audio-visual Services).

The philosophy of Multimedia Services is aptly summed up by Coordinator D.W. Wheetly. "We are primarily concerned with the instruction of students".

Princess Winnifred as played by Jordyce Bryntesen, passes a test instituted by the queen and helps to restore a kingdom to order.

Once Upon A Mattress

by Sam Wagmeister

Lawry Gold sang, "I'm in love with a girl named Fred," near the end of the first act of the ITCC-N Stage Player's performance of Once Upon a Mattress, and in that line he expressed the feelings of an entire audience. Little Jordyce Bryntesen romped through two acts in pixie-like fashion, belting out songs, filled with vibrance, capturing the spectators' hearts.

The play is based on the fairy tale that deals with the domineering queen protecting her sweet young prince from marriage. She administers impossible tests to the prospective brides. The ultimate test is given to the Princess of the Swamp, Winnifred (Jordyce); a pea placed under 20 mattresses. If she sleeps she does not have the sensitivity of royalty. After a tortuous night of counting sheep, she marries Prince Dauntless the Drab (Lawrence Gold).

Mr. Gold, as Drab, is continually guilty of exaggerated slap-stick falls that bring, "Eh!" from the viewers, but a voice that brings applause! The most intelligent "pearls" from him are, "Nannie, noonie, nunnie, naennie!"

Stewart Hoch, who staged the production, and Director Christopher Williams and Asst. Director Charles Whitcomb have done a good job, but this is somewhat lost by the noise that is constantly coming from the area of the stage band.

Worthy of kudos are: Ronald Benson, the minstrel; Cathy Provost, who displays a delightful voice in the role of Lady Larkin; Rick Ricordati chosen anywhere; agreed; but then why were we afraid to let the Vietnamese choose in 1956, before the Viet Cong started their terrorist tactics? Mr. Giebutowski ended his letter with this: "America has shown that she still has the spine to resist a bully. I would personally rather die for my country than shamefully (sic) bow down to atheistic communism, for my soul is greater than life itself". Good old jingoism— just what the world needs more of today! But, at least, on this score, let everyone speak for himself. You would have little difficulty finding soldiers now in Viet Nam (there not by virtue of any choice of their own!) who put life first. By the way, if it is the atheistic part of communism that is so objectionable, one may have to take on America itself sometime in the future, in view of its rising incidence of non-belief?

Snowstorm on Thanksgiving Weekend

by Jeff Provus

As much as three inches of fluffy snow will accumulate at the beginning of the Thanksgiving Weekend (November 23, Wednesday, through November 26, Saturday).

DECEMBER OUTLOOK

Low pressure areas (storm centers) will develop in the Oklahoma region and move in our direction constantly in December. This will cause the December snowfall total to EXCEED the normal of 10.2". Expect between 14 and 22 inches of snow in December! Temperatures will be near to or slightly below normal, with at least three days expected to dip to zero or below. Temperatures in December average near 40 degrees in the day, and around 18 at night.

A brief word about the coming two weeks. Temperatures will average mostly in the lower or middle 40's during daylight hours, and in the upper to middle 20's at night. This is a bit below normal. Scattered light snow or rain is expected throughout the period.

WINTERIZING YOUR CAR

Check the list below for ways to prepare your car for the winter ahead.

- (1). Antifreeze. Have it prepared for temps. under 20 degrees below zero.
- (2). Oil. Use SAE 5 or 10 in very cold weather.
- (3). Battery. If it's weak, replace it now!
- (4). Windshield wipers. If stiff or torn, change them. Carry an extra set in glove compartment.
- (5). Tires. Make sure treads are deep. Snow tires and "chains" can be most helpful.
- (6). Heating and defrosting units. Clean out defroster and as the pompous but brilliant Sir Harry; the ballet of Prologue dancer Donna Cohen, and Lester Palmer as King Sextemus the Silent, who doesn't let his marriage interfere with his "messin' around."

The fine choreography of Muriel Aramburu is deserving of praise, as is the excellence of the chorus. But the one who stole the show is that tiny bundle of "Happiness is ---" Jordy Bryntesen.

heater ducts to allow for free flow of air.

EXTENDED WEATHER FORECASTS

Period coverage is from November 22, Tuesday, through December 5, Monday.

NOVEMBER 22-23, Tuesday and Wednesday. Cool but pleasant on the 22nd. Wednesday will find light snow starting by night. Highs: 37-45. Lows: 28-34.

THANKSGIVING WEEKEND-NOVEMBER 24-27. Thursday through Sunday. Rather cold all weekend. Some light snow on Thursday will become heavier Thursday night or Friday. More light snow or flurries on Saturday. Accumulations will total up to three inches by Saturday night. Skies will clear on Sunday (27th). Daytime temps. generally between 35 and 43. Evening temps. generally in the 20's.

NOVEMBER 28-DECEMBER 2, Monday through Friday. Rain or snow late Monday or Tuesday. Snow flurries and colder on Wednesday and probably again on Thursday (Dec. 1). Clear and cold on Friday. Temperatures during the week will range between 35 and 45 in the day, and between 23 and 34 at night.

DECEMBER 3-5, Saturday through Monday. Saturday will be nice but chilly. Sunday and Monday will spill some light snow or rain on Chicagoland.

Christmas and New Year's Eve weather in next column.

All students registered in "Introduction to Education" are reminded that the last general lecture will be held in the auditorium on Tues., Nov. 29, 1966 at 10 AM. The topic will concern itself with "The Learner and the Curriculum."

I am a "tired American" — sickened by the slack jawed bigots who wrap themselves in bedsheets in the dead of night and roam the countryside looking for innocent victims.

I am a "tired American" who dislikes clergymen who have made a career out of integration causes yet send their own children to private schools.

I am a "tired American" who resents those who try to peddle the belief in schools and colleges that capitalism is a dirty word and that free enterprise and private initiative are only synonyms for greed.

They say they hate capitalism but they are always right at the head of the line demanding their share of the American way of life.

I am a "tired American" who gets more than a little bit weary of the clique in our State Department who choose to regard a policy of timidity as prudent . . . the same group who subscribe to a "no win" policy in Viet Nam.

I am a "tired American" . . . real tired of those who are trying to sell me the belief that America is not the greatest nation in all the world . . . a generous hearted nation . . . a nation dedicated to the policy of trying to help the "have nots" achieve some of the good things that our system of free enterprise brought about.

I am an American who gets a lump in his throat when he hears the "Star Spangled Banner" and who holds back the tears when he hears those chilling high notes of the brassy trumpets when Old Glory reaches the top of the flag pole.

I am a "tired American" . . . who wants to start snapping at those phony "high priests" who want us to bow down and worship their false idols and who seek to destroy the belief that America is the land of the free and the home of the brave.

I am a "tired American" who thanks a merciful Lord that he was so lucky to be born an American citizen . . . a nation . . . under God . . . with truly mercy and justice . . . for all.

Students Speak About Parking Problems

that if the neighbors would be so kind as to buy his plates and stickers for him, he would park anywhere they wanted him to.

Perhaps many of the students who feel that the blame is not being put on the proper people are right. Many of the worst offenders are not the full time day students; the real problem comes around 5:00 when the home owners come home and find the extended-day student's cars parked in front of their houses. Usually the parking lot is not full at this time — but our graduate students don't seem to care. Day students who are trying to cooperate with the administration and home owners (and most are) resent the fact that the pressure is being put mainly on them.

Perhaps if all students cooperated we would not have the present crisis.

Follett's has what you need for term papers and finals

Term papers can be an awful drag—or they can be exciting and stimulating. It all depends on your attitude toward the project and how well you prepare for it. Follett's can help you . . . if it's encouragement you need then GO - GO - GO; But—if you need help in preparing your paper—from notes to final draft—we're the people you should see.

Follett's has a complete line of outlines, digests, summaries . . . from $1.00 to $2.35 . . . on any and all subjects. If you need a Thesaurus, or a dictionary, or a word finder, or a synonym/antonym finder, we have those, too. Of course we also have 3 x 5 cards for notes, typing paper, and carbon paper (even erasers). You'll find the job is half over once you have the right tools at hand—and you can get them at Follett's.

We'd love to help educate dumb bunnies.

BASKETBALL PREVIEW

by Sam Wagmeister

Nov. 30, the Golden Eagles will square off with Purdue in ITCC-N's gym to open the 1966-67 basketball season, only the second in the school's history.

Coach Gerald "Gee" Butler has been reluctant to name his starting line-up because the competition for the berths has been so great, but several people have shown ability.

Rod Browder, the hustling little red head who is the team's captain, will once again be a familiar face at ITC's games. The 5'8" guard averaged 12.1 points per game last year finishing second on the team in that department. Don Lau, another returnee, adds 6'5" to the team. Last year, "Big D" notched 9.0 points a game.

Doug DeVincent, who started for the Wright Rams last year, figures to see a lot of action at one of the forward spots. Jim Hess, a 5'8" guard, and Pat Doyle, a 6' forward, have shown great promise in the scrimages.

Jessie Banson, a freshman from the city's perennial basketball power, Marshall High School, is making his bid for one of the guard positions. During practices, his desire and hustle have often drawn the compliments of his teammates.

Six foot five inch Glenn Schap, a freshman from Holy Cross, figures to grab many ITC rebounds at one of the forward spots. Another new Eagle, Jack Fabian, has shown determination and skill as he attempts to break in to the starting line-up.

Les Caliguiari, a Sophomore, has given great pressure to others trying to win a starting guard spot, and figures to see a lot of basketball action this season. Joe "Crunch" Konce, a freshman from Taft, stands 6'3", and uses all his height in grabbing rebounds.

Coach Butler feels that the loss of the freshman from St. George, Ray Carski, due to an operation on his leg, will be felt by the Eagles, but Ray will return in Jan.

Leading the cheers for the boys on the court will be Cindi Brenner, Judy Frank, Gail Hom, Merle Hoffman, Nanci Siany, and Barb Wendling. Alternate cheerleaders are Barbara Kosac and Fern Loiben.

The basketball managers are Bob Biggins and Joe Majkszak. Joe told the INTERIM that ITC's opponents will be in for many surprises this season. "Our fast break, full court press, and an awful lot of hustle will show our opponents that they'll have a tough battle on their hands".

The Eagles, who were 6-9 last year, play several teams that they met in the 65-66 season. Against those teams, our "Golden Boys" were 6-5.

BOWLING NEWS.

Seven weeks into the ITCC-N bowling season, the Clunkers find themselves on the top of the league, followed by the GutterDusters and the Openers.

After twenty-one games, Jim Lewand and Kris Warzecha lead the league with respective high averages of 164 and 150, Bob Pellicore and Geri Widdes lead with high series of 550 and 536, and Al Gagnon and Pam DeBoer have high games of 208 and 180 respectively.

The bowling league officers, President Gary Ferson, Vice President Bob Pellicore, Treasurer Kris Warzecha, and Secretaries Nanny Johnson and Pat Franklin are carefully deciding on the trophies they will buy to be presented at the Bowling Banquet on December 16, 1966.

The psychology department would have been proud of two

Baton Twirling and Girls Pom Pom Corps.

Were you a Majorette while in High School? Are you full of pep and school spirit? If you are then perhaps you'd be interested in forming a new Baton Twirling and Girls Pom Pom Corps. A meeting was held at 10:00 A.M., Tuesday, the 8th, in the bandroom located behind the Auditorium. Information concerning the Twirl and Girls Pom Pom Corps. was discussed by our sponsor, Dr. Gangware, Head of the Band Department and Joyce Von Rath. If you know how to twirl and do Pom Pom routines and are sincerely interested in promoting school spirit, auditions will be held at a later date. Check the Band Bulletin Board for further notice.

P.E. MAJORS CLUB

The physical education majors of ITCC-N have formed a new club, named the "Physical Education Majors Club". Anyone interested in physical teams, the Psychotics and the Intrepid Pterodactyls. During the games between these two teams, a little applied psychology was used to good advantage. Both teams used the theory of positive reinforcement in the form of loud applause and cheering after every spare and strike and spurred their respective teams to high scores. Enthusiasm does help.

This has been a season of many splits. However, through practice, many of these splits have been converted into education can join. The club was granted a charter at the last Senate meeting (Thursday, October 27). The officers of the club are as follows: Sue Roltsch, President; Maryanne Cummings, Vice-President; Patti-Jean Ferguson, Secretary; and Ronna Gulof, Treasurer. Mr. Ziagos is the club's sponsor. The club hopes to sponsor many interesting activities, to promote school spirit, and to invite guest speakers knowledgeable in the field of physical education.

If you are interested in joining, please contact one of the officers, a physical education major, or teachers, in the gym. Dues are one dollar per trimester, paid during the trimester at your convenience.

spares. Both Judy McClintock and Ron Slavick picked up the difficult 6-7-10 railroad. Therese Kotnour and Kris Warzecha picked up the 6-7 split, Sue McKay, Sheila Poeppel, and Therese Kotnour (twice) picked up the 5-7 split, the 7-10 rail was picked up by Hillary Weinstein, the 5-10 split by Donna Sherman, the 1-3-7 split by Paula Bell, and Jim Lewand picked up the 2-7-10 split.

On October 25, the bowling night before Halloween, the Great Pumpkin sent his helper, Mrs. Petty (the bowling sponsor) to the honest and sincere bowling league, where she distributed candy, brightly wrapped in Halloween napkins. The team of the Alley Cats wore costumes of cats ears and cat tails and whiskers drawn on their faces. The candy bars were enjoyed by all and the day will be remembered through pictures taken by Geri Widdes.

Dr. Donald Paul, the club's advisor, agreed that the students should know what ITCC-N has to offer to its psychology majors. He also told that the club may be able to apply for Psi Chi membership in Sept. Phi Chi is the national fraternal honor society for students majoring or minoring in psychology.

The officers of the club are: Linda Hoobyar, president; Bonnie Cowen, recording secretary.

Dr. Kirk has been invited to speak at the next meeting, Dec. 8, at 1 PM in room B-109. He plans to discuss curriculum changes that are to go into effect in the Jan. trimester. At the meeting, the new sequence of psychology classes will be announced. All students are invited.
