

Apr 23rd, 9:45 AM

I Am Assyrian

Sandra Younan
Northeastern Illinois University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://neiudc.neiu.edu/srcas>

Younan, Sandra, "I Am Assyrian" (2021). NEIU Student Research and Creative Activities Symposium. 4.
<https://neiudc.neiu.edu/srcas/2021/s19/4>

This Event is brought to you for free and open access by the Conferences and Symposia at NEIU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in NEIU Student Research and Creative Activities Symposium by an authorized administrator of NEIU Digital Commons. For more information, please contact neiudc@neiu.edu.

I AM ASSYRIAN

Sandra Younan, Department of Art & Design, Northeastern Illinois University, Chicago, IL
60625

Many people strongly identify with their culture and where they come from, many don't have a homeland. They come from a history of indigenous groups that have been facing persecution and segregation for hundreds of years. These people are just trying to survive, and keep alive their culture, history, traditions, and language. This is exactly what Assyrians around the world are trying to do. As an Assyrian born in Syria, it is very important to me to keep my culture and language alive. I take so much pride in who I am and where I come from. This project is the perfect opportunity to share my Assyrian roots with the world around me. This project is going to be a series of 4 digitally created posters that represent the great Assyrian civilization, important leading figures/regular people, Assyrian alphabet and culture. Also, I will bring into the picture some cultural elements that Assyrians identify with. My work will be focused on an audience that is not familiar with this civilization/culture to shed some light on our forgotten history and existence, and to introduce more people to the rich culture of Assyria.