Academic Propagation? Get Help

If the grades you earned in the past winter, spring or summer sessions have pulled your cumulative grade point average down below 3.0 (C), you have no doubt already received a letter from the Records Office informing you that you are now on academic probation. This letter also explained that the University Counseling Center has counselors available to assist you in returning your record to good standing.

In accord with their custom, you will soon receive a letter from the Center inviting you to report to a specific counselor on the staff whose responsibility it is to help you as much as possible as you work to bring your grade point average back up to the required 3.0. These letters are going into the mail daily.

However, it isn't necessary for you to wait for a letter before you see a counselor. Don't hesitate to stop by the University Counseling Center, B115, any time from 9:00 to 4:00 five days a week. On Mondays and Tuesdays, the Center is open until 7:00 to accommodate those of you who find it inconvenient to come by during the day.

Also, to be of greatest service, the counselors take turns in freeing their schedules from appointments so that a counselor is always available ("counselor-at-large") to see students without appointments. If you prefer, it is always possible for the receptionist to help you set up an appointment with a specific counselor.

The counselors are most anxious to help students in every possible way to succeed in redeeming their records and are looking forward to seeing you, so be sure to stop by the Center, B1165, without delay.

Prof. to Talk on Decade

Dr. Maurice Guysenir will present a history of the roaring twenties, The Era of Wonderful Nonsense, on Thursday, September 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Science Building, room S-102. Guysenir is a Professor of Education and Social Science at Northeastern.

Using two slide projectors and popular music of the era, Guysenir will examine the decade that introduced the "Flapper," movies that talked, big-time college football, and prohibition. He will also discuss some of the decade's most famous personalities, people such as actor Rudolph Valentino, evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson, gangster Al

Capone, and President Warren G. Harding.

This program is part of a "$.99 Special" series sponsored by Northeastern's Office of Field and Continuing Education and the Alumni Association. Admission to the performance is $.99. For additional details, call 583-4050, ext. 392.

Project Director Cited

Santos Rivera, a resident of South Chicago Heights, has been cited as one of the "Outstanding Young Men of America in 1981." Rivera is coordinator of Proyecto Pa'lante, an academic outreach program for college-bound Latino students. The Outstanding Young Men of America committee recognized Rivera for his outstanding personal and professional achievements.

Prior to being named coordinator of Proyecto Pa'lante in 1979, Rivera had served as a counselor in the program since 1973. He has also served as an advisor to Northeastern's Chicano Student Union and he has assisted in the formation of a Columbian student organization and a Latino women's support group.

A graduate of Aurora College, Rivera holds a master's degree in guidance and counseling from UNI.

Clubs Recruiting This Week

Have you ever thought about joining a club at UNI? Have you ever wanted to find out about a club and couldn't find any information about them? Well, here's your chance! The week of Sept. 21 - 25 is Student Activities Week. Different clubs and organizations will be represented in the Village Square (near the Booknook (all week long from 10:00 am to 4:00 p.m.) You'll be able to meet people from different clubs, get information on how to join, when meetings are and what's involved. You may also be asked to fill out surveys on what activities you would like to see on campus. Student Activities Week also kicks off major events on campus. Next week and the weeks to come will be filled with concerts, lectures, films, dances, meetings, trips and other exciting events. If you have a desire to join one club or just want to shop around, the following list will help you determine which days to be on the lookout for your club.

Wednesday, Sept. 23 - Free to ALL Clubs

Thursday, Sept. 24 - Commuter Center Activities Board and Student Senate

Friday, Sept. 25 - Free to All Clubs

Opera Auditions, Sep. 23

Opera Workshop will hold auditions for La Boheme by Giacomo Puccini today. We are looking for two sopranos, two tenors, two baritones and four basses, for leading roles.

We will need a chorus of townspeople, soldiers, servants, children, boys and girls, students, working girls, gendarmes, etc.

Auditions will be held September 23 at 6:30 p.m. in the A-Wing Room 131. You should bring one song preferably in English but not necessarily from La Boheme.

Auditions for Orchestra will also be held same time, same place.

If you are interested in working on a technical aspect of the production, please come to the auditions or contact any of the Opera Workshop officers or Dr. Ronald Combs.

Newsbit: Faculty on Radio

Dr. Rosalyn O'Cherony, Professor of Foreign Language and Literature, was a guest on the half-hour show "Tempo" on WOJO (FM-105), Friday, September 18. She will discuss the National Endowment for the Humanities-funded seminar "Improving Foreign Language Instruction in Urban Schools" which was held at Northeastern this summer. (The majority of WOJO's programming is in Spanish but this interview will be presented in English.)

BEGINNER OR ADVANCED - Cost is about the same as a semester in a U.S. college: $2,889. Price includes jet round trip to Seville from New York, room, board, and tuition complete. Government grants and loans available for eligible students.

Live with a Spanish family, attend classes four hours a day, four days a week, four months. Earn 16 hrs. of credit (equivalent to 4 semesters-taught in U.S. colleges over a two year time span). Your Spanish studies will be enhanced by opportunities not available in a U.S. classroom. Standardized tests show our students' language skills superior to students completing two year programs in U.S.

Hurry, it takes a lot of time to make all arrangements. We depart Jan. 31, and return June 1, 1982. FULLY ACCREDITED-A program of Trinity Christian College.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Student Talks about "Communication"

Dear Editor
and UNI Student Body,

Brendon O'Leary, the Director of the Physical Facilities here at UNI in his letter to the PRINT of August 19th, encouraged the students to "contact their representatives serving on the Campus Planning Committee" concerning the parking fee increase. I thought that Student Government was the forgotten orphan when it came to acquiring information in this university, until I discovered that Mr. O'Leary has been forgotten also. I have been informed that Mr. O'Leary is a member of Campus Planning but doesn't know that the Administration, in it's infinite wisdom, has decided to ignore the student input and abolish the Campus Planning Committee on September 1, 1981.

My advice to Mr. O'Leary is that he shouldn't feel too bad about being left uninformed. At least in the past, he had been kept informed as to when the committee was meeting. Not so with the Student Representatives who were informed of the July 27th meeting on August 4th...EIGHT days after they met!!!! Surprised Mr. O'Leary? Don't be. To be notified of the meetings after they occurred was the norm. Two student representatives to that committee attest to it. Tom Shaw states, "I was always notified two weeks after the meetings were held...they (the committee chairperson) are notorious for not notifying students of meetings." Student Senate President Stephen Gold, a former Committee member agreed and added that, "We are always ignored."

Campus Planning is an important committee that gives insight to students concerning the future of the campus. Among other things, the committee is responsible for approval of annual parking fees. The responsibility is being assumed by the Vice President of Administrative Affairs, William Lienemann who is in the process lately of acquiring numerous positions that effect student welfare.

Dr. Ronald Williams, the UNI President, recently expressed his concern over the deterioration of communication between Administration and the students, principally through the Student Senate. Let's see if the Administration of this University keeps its word and informs students of policy decisions affecting our student community. Personally, I wouldn't hold my breath waiting for it to happen.

Sincerely

Robert G. Zuley
Student Senator

"Thank you" for Health Director

An open letter to Nurse Marion Etten:

I guess we should have written this a long time ago. It would have been good for you to know how we feel and for the university to know what you mean to the students.

For several weeks we have been reading and hearing about the plans of the administration to have a new insurance office which would combine the student insurance with the employee insurance in one location. We have just learned that the new office will be in the basement of the classroom building as of October 1. We also learned that you will no longer be the supervisor of our insurance program which you developed for us.

That is a big disappointment to us. We think the administration is making a big Mistake by putting our insurance program in the hands of people who don't care about us one bit and who know nothing at all about our insurance. They are only concerned about employees and will not do anything for us.

We know we speak for all the students when we write this letter. We just want you to know that we really appreciate all you have done and continue to do for us. You care more about us and our problems than anyone else on campus and we publicly thank you and honor you. We think you're terrific.

Leadership Conference to Help Tap Potential

There is a "realization that we have a tremendous amount of talent in our students," (at U.N.I.) said Barbara Cook, Acting Director of Student Activities, "and we want to tap this as much as possible."

According to Cook, the activities department will be sponsoring a Student Leadership Conference to help students become more effective in their leadership and planning roles.

Currently the plans call for a limited enrollment of forty student leaders, drawing from the Student Senate, CCAB, the Media Board, the Fine Arts Board and the Independent Club Board.

The conference, to be held Saturday September 26 will start off with a light breakfast and a speaker on the roles that student organizations play in the system.

Afterwards the group will break off into problem solving groups. These groups will be asked to work on a practical problem and report back to the whole conference. Then there will be a critique of the strengths and weaknesses of their solutions.

Lunch will begin at 12:00 and so as not to waste time, the conference membership will be instructed on the "ropes" of dealing with the Northeastern Beurocracy. This part will stress talking about "people to know."

From there the conference members will be able to enroll in workshops of their choice, dealing with areas of interest to them. Some of the ideas discussed are; budget planning, paperwork, programming, publicity, leadership, assertiveness, the club advisor and event planning.

The conference program will be wrapped up with a film and evaluation of the day's events by the participants.

Cook stated, "This is going to be a very good experience for all the participants and all those who are invited should respond quickly... as we expect a good turn out."

Letter

Senate Should Work With Officials

of others. The Senate, whose purpose is to serve the students, has only been serving itself of late. There are too many Senators who are in office, not for the purpose of doing some good for the student community, but to promote their private interests. True, if you want something done you have to do it yourself, and it is not wrong for an interest group to elect one of its members to the Senate in order to help promote their interests, but if they are elected they should pay attention to all matters, not just their own! They need to realize that they can accomplish a lot for the students of this university if they would only work together (key word-together) to promote all students welfare. Too often good legislation is voted down because of personal opinions about the person presenting the bill. This is ridiculous! Policies are voted down because someone else wants their name on it. C'mon people, put your egos aside! If the Senate wasn't so preoccupied with fighting the administration, they would realize that they could accomplish a lot by working with the administration, not against them.

TO ALL SENATORS - GET YOUR ACT TOGETHER!
