GRIT IS ALL AROUND US

Abigail K. Rouch, Department of Art & Design, Northeastern Illinois University, Chicago, IL

According to researchers "grit" is defined as 'passion, and perseverance.' Grit involves overcoming challenges, maintaining effort and interest despite failure or adversity. For my senior thesis I have dedicated this time to explore the relationship between beauty and grit. Why should we pay so much attention to grit? Is grit the key to success? The main objective of "Grit is All Around Us" is to identify the various skills and traits other than intelligence that contribute to human development and success. I want to know what 'grit' means to others, and to help cultivate these stories in a zine publication I will be designing along with my photography to help showcase stories of grit and perseverance.
